

BRITISH FORCES AT ANTWERP
RETREAT WITH BELGIANSONE ENGLISH NAVAL BRIGADE IS NOW
INTERNEED IN HOLLAND

London Statement Says Retreat of Belgians is Successfully Accomplished—Progress on Battle Line in France is Problematical—Death of King Charles May Change Rumania's Attitude in Regard to Hostilities—Battle on East Prussian Frontier Continues Unabated.

With the fall of Antwerp it has become known through official announcement of the British admiralty that a British force consisting of three naval brigades of about 8,000 men, with heavy guns, fought beside the Belgians in defence of their great fortress.

With the Belgian army, when it marched out of Antwerp, went the British but during the retreat one of the British brigades was forced to find refuge in Holland where it is now interned. The other two brigades reached Ostend. The British losses at Antwerp are reported to be three hundred.

The British admiralty statement adds that the retreat of the Belgian army was successfully accomplished.

The progress of the battle along the line from the Belgian frontier to Lorraine is problematical the official communications issued by the French war office giving meagre details of the situation.

The latest statement says that general headquarters only mentions encounters between cavalry forces in the neighborhood of Lille, a violent action to the south, east and north of Arras and vigorous offensive movements by the Germans on the heights of the Meuse.

An earlier statement reported progress by the allies to the north of the Oise and in the region of St. Mihiel.

The death of King Charles of Rumania, which occurred at his country seat, at Sinaia, in Walachia, brings prominently to the front the question of the attitude which Rumania is now likely to assume with regard to participation in the war. King Charles favored the Germans and Austrians, but his ministers and the Rumanian people have inclined to war with the allies. Meanwhile Rumania has retained neutral.

On the east Prussian frontier the battle between the German and Russian forces continues with unabated obstinacy. According to Russian official reports the German troops are retreating from the region of Lyck and are blowing up the bridges.

The Russian troops are undertaking strong offensive movements in Poland and are massing along the line from Lublin to Warsaw and also from Lublin to Lemberg.

Vienna reports of an official character say that the advance of the Austrians has forced the Russians to slacken their efforts against Przemyśl and that the Russians have commenced to withdraw their forces.

It is added that the Russians have evacuated Reszow and are retreating from Maramorosz-Siget.

Strongest Fortress in World Falls
London, Oct. 10.—Antwerp and the forts surrounding the city are now in possession of the Germans, but the greater part of the Belgian army has escaped.

It took the Germans just eleven days to capture the strongest fortress in the world.

The fall of Antwerp is evidence that even the most powerful forts are no match for the colossal howitzers which the invaders have successfully employed against every fortified place that stood in their way. These huge guns open gaps through which the besiegers find an entrance for their field artillery and infantry.

The Germans, after shelling the city itself for many hours, making it untenable, entered the town through the suburb of Berchem, to the east. They had made a breach in the outer line of forts, some of which were destroyed by their big guns and others blown up by the defenders. The Germans followed similar plans in dealing with the inner belt of forts and at the same time threw shells into the city which set fire in many places.

The inner forts, like those further out, soon succumbed to the enormous shells and on Friday morning several of these forts had fallen, opening the way for the Germans into the city. By midday they were in occupation of the town and at 2:30 in the afternoon the war banner on the cathedral was replaced by a white flag, indicating surrender.

A few forts continued to hold out and it was not until 11 o'clock this morning that the Germans, according to their own official report, were in complete possession of the city and fortress. When they arrived yesterday, they found that the Belgian field army and at least part of the garrison had anticipated them, and like the king and royal family, had escaped.

Death Toll is Terribly Heavy
The death toll resulting from the attack on and defense of Antwerp has not been compiled and probably the full details never will be known; but all accounts describe it as being terribly heavy. The Germans, although their big guns cleared a path for them, had to sacrifice many lives in crossing the rivers and canals and in driving out the defenders, who held the entrenchments until the last.

The stubbornness of the Belgians and of those who went to their assistance cost them dearly also, so that both sides will have long casualty lists. There is no reliable information as to the loss of life in the city and the damage done there. Crowds of refugees arrived in London tonight. Most of them left Antwerp on Thursday night and their accounts of the attack are confused. The Belgians themselves, besides destroying the forts, blew up steamers at the docks and set fire to the petrol stores and everything that could be of use to the invaders. They also took away what the transports could carry.

Berchem, where the military and other hospitals, the orphanage, and some public buildings are situated, is reported to be destroyed. Even if this is an exaggeration it must be badly damaged, as it was burning at least two days.

Cathedral Not Badly Damaged.
The Antwerp railway stations also made marks for the shells from the big guns, but according to some of those who have reached here, the cathedral, which is on the other side of the city nearer to Scheldt, while struck, was not badly damaged. The inmates of the hospitals and other institutions were removed on Thursday or earlier so that they were well out of the way before the Germans arrived.

A question which is now arising is as to the effect upon the general campaign of the German occupation of Antwerp. The Belgian garrison or the greater part of it escaped and is reported to be engaged with the Germans.

The strategic importance of Antwerp consisted in its menace to the German lines running through Belgium. Now matters have been reversed and the allies will have to take their turn in keeping forces before the city to prevent the Germans from Antwerp attacking their flank or rear, should they be able to advance. The Germans purpose, according to the Berlin reports, to use the city as a base for operations against England.

So long as Great Britain commands the sea no great part of the German navy can use the port even should Germany overrule Holland's objection to the use of the Scheldt by belligerent ships. Germany, it is thought, may claim that being in possession of the city she acquires Belgium's right to use the river on equal terms with the Dutch and will proceed to build destroyers and submarines there to menace the British fleet.

If Holland should allow these vessels to pass through the Scheldt, England, it is said, would certainly proclaim it a breach of neutrality. In any case, Holland's position becomes more and more uncomfortable.

French Maintain Positions.
In France according to the French communication the allies have maintained their positions, in spite of violent attacks at several points. The cavalry still is engaged along the Belgian frontier and across it, each side trying to work around the other's wing. This movement has compelled the Germans to withdraw some troops from other parts of the line and the allies are seizing the opportunity to make headway.

The communication reports that to the north of the Oise the French troops are attaining a real advantage in several parts of their zone of action, while in the St. Mihiel drive the Germans back across the Meuse, appreciable progress has been made.

The German and Russian forces on the east Prussian frontier are still fighting stubbornly. The Russians apparently continue to make progress slowly and the Germans, evidently fearing another invasion of east Prussia, according to news from Berlin received through Rome, are sending reinforcements to their army, both by railway and through the Baltic ports.

An unofficial dispatch received from Petrograd says that Russians have occupied Margrabowa, which is eight miles over the frontier in east Prussia, almost due west of Suwalki. This would indicate that the Russians have overcome in this region the German resistance, which has been of longer duration than at any other section after the Germans were driven back from their attempt to cross the Neimen river. Lyck, which also has been occupied by the Russians, is fifteen miles south of Margrabowa.

Petrograd has drawn the veil for the time being over the operations in western Poland, where a great battle is expected.

The fortress of Przemyśl, in Galicia, still holds out, but it is reported that additional forces have fallen and that the town is being bombarded. A gun powder factory is said to have been blown up.

May Affect Rumanian's Action.
Fighting also continues in Hungary, where another Russian force is reported to have arrived south of Margrabowa. The death of King Charles of Rumania is likely to have a marked effect on that country's action with regard to war. The late king, who belonged to the Hohenzollern family, was opposed to Rumania joining with the allies, although a majority of the people favored the government taking advantage of the opportunity to annex Transylvania, which is largely populated by Rumanians. It is doubted whether the new king will have sufficient influence to keep his country out of the war, even if he should desire to do so.

Germany seems to think Portugal is about to declare war with the allies. This belief probably is based on the fact that the French warships have been visiting that country in connection with the affairs of the republic.

WAR BULLETINS

LONDON, Oct. 11.—5:40 a. m.—The death of Cardinal Ferrata, papal secretary of state has temporarily ended the Vatican's peace negotiations which already had been begun with the powers at war, says a despatch from Rome to the Exchange Telegraph Co.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—A despatch from Rome to the Exchange Telegraph Co. says that the city is suffering from famine. The Montenegris hold not only the railroad but also the roads over which it is possible to transport supplies.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—2:04 a. m.—A serious German check is reported this morning (October 11) at Quatrecht, near Wetteren, east of Ghent, where, according to an Ostend despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co., 20,000 Germans have been repulsed by French and British troops.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—3:15 a. m.—The reports that King Albert of Belgium has been slightly wounded persist, according to the Amsterdam correspondent of the Daily Mail. Persons who saw the king with his troops on Friday state that he wore one arm in a sling.

EDISON MAKES HIS FIRST
INSPECTION OF A SUBMARINE

Electrical Wizard Predicts Plungers Will Soon Be Able to Stay Under Water Almost Indefinitely

New York, Oct. 10.—Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, made his first inspection of a submarine today, when with Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy he went aboard the submarine S. G. 4 at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

Mr. Edison predicted that before long it would be possible for submarines to remain under water almost indefinitely without coming for air. He said he could extract enough oxygen from the water to live on, he said, man could do the same thing.

"All that is needed," he continued, "is a device with potash batteries as the principal part. Such apparatus could be installed in a submarine and it would break water up in its elements of hydrogen and oxygen."

Mr. Edison said he had not planned to submit any ship equipment to the navy.

READY TO DASH INTO ZEPPLINS

London, Oct. 11.—3:20 a. m.—It was announced by Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade at a patriotic meeting in King's Way Hall here last night that "If Zeppelins raid London all the members of the British flying corps have pledged themselves to dash their machines right through the airships, even if both are brought to earth."

"Anyone passing through London," the speaker added, "can see that we expect a visit by German air craft."

UNITED STATES WILL MAKE NO FURTHER MOVE

WILL RESERVE ANNOUNCEMENT OF
FUTURE POLICY TOWARD MEXICO

Awaits Carranza Guarantee of Full Protection of All Aliens and Mexicans and Promises not to Re-impose Customs Duties at Vera Cruz.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The United States government will make no further move in the Mexican situation and will reserve announcement of its future policy towards the Mexican central government, until Gen. Carranza, the first constitutional chief has given formal guarantee of full protection to all aliens and Mexicans, irrespective of their political affiliations and promises not to re-impose customs duties collected by Americans during the occupation of Vera Cruz.

This was the declaration of State department officials tonight following the announcement, that, despite two attempts, Carranza has so far refused to satisfactorily explain his position as to what steps he contemplates taking upon the withdrawal of the American troops from Vera Cruz.

Aguilar Denies Rumors.
Vera Cruz, Oct. 10.—Fearing the consequence of the unrest caused in this city by persistent rumors that he intended to attack the town if the American forces did not leave by Monday, Gen. Candido Aguilar today caused a manifesto to be circulated in Vera Cruz denying any such intention.

So widespread was the uneasiness in the city today that the schools were closed early.

CARDINAL FERRATA, PAPAL
SECRETARY OF STATE, DIES

Death is Caused From Peritonitis—Was Appointed by Pope Benedict Sept. 4.

Rome, Oct. 10.—Cardinal Dominic Ferrata, the papal secretary of state who has been ill for several weeks, died today. He had been ill for some time and his death was not unexpected. Physicians decided today an operation would not be necessary for the patient.

The immediate cause of death of Cardinal Ferrata was peritonitis, an outcome of his protracted illness. Because of this peritonitis it was considered imprudent to operate.

Among the telegrams of inquiry received shortly before the cardinal's death was one from M. Briand, the French minister of justice.

Cardinal Ferrata was stricken with appendicitis soon after his appointment by Pope Benedict, Sept. 4, to the office of papal secretary of state. The cardinal was born at Montefiascone, Italy, in 1847. He was the papal delegate to the world's eucharistic congress at Malta in 1913.

Cardinal Ferrata was an arch priest of the Patriarchal Lateran Arch-basilica. He was created and proclaimed a cardinal June 23, 1896. For six years he was papal nuncio at Paris and later was prefect of the Congregation of Bishops in Rome.

STATE DEPARTMENT HOLDS THAT COTTON IS NON-CONTRABAND

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Continuing its policy of forging out a complete code of regulation of shipments of American products, not only to neutral but to belligerent countries, the state department today announced a decision relating to exports of cotton seed oil. The decision marks a distinct advance in the exemption of semi-contraband goods from seizure when carried in American bottoms.

The solicitor's opinion goes beyond the mere matter of cotton seed oil and lays down the principle that cotton is non-contraband and is not subject to seizure even when shipped to a belligerent country, providing it is on American or other neutral ships. Therefore there is no impediment to the shipment of American cotton to Hamburg consigned to German spinners.

BELGIUM ASKED FOR BRITISH AID

Admiralty Issues Statement Regarding Retreat of Antwerp Troops

ONE BRIGADE INTERNEED

Two Thousand English Soldiers are Driven Into Dutch Territory and Lay Down Arms

REMOVE ARMORED TRAINS

LONDON, Oct. 11.—12:40 a. m.—The first official admission that the British participated in the defense of Antwerp is contained in an admiralty announcement that three naval brigades with heavy guns, had been sent there during the last week of the German attack.

The announcement adds that in the retreat from Antwerp two British brigades reached Ostend safely. The other, however was cut off to the north of Lokeren (a town in east Flanders 12 miles northeast of Ghent), and 2,000 of the men were interned in Holland.

The retreat of the Belgian army was accomplished successfully. The losses of the British naval brigades probably will be less than 300 out of a total of 8,000 men.

Belgians Requested Aid.

The secretary of the admiralty makes the following announcement: "In response to an appeal by the Belgian government a marine brigade and two naval brigades, together with some heavy naval guns manned by a detachment of the Royal Navy, the whole under the command of General Paris, R. M. A. were sent by His Majesty's government to participate in the defense of Antwerp during the last week of the attack.

"Up till the night of Monday, last, October 5, the Belgian army and marine brigade successfully defended the line of the Nethe river, but early on Tuesday morning the Belgian forces on the right of Malines were forced by a heavy German attack covered by a very powerful artillery to retire and in consequence the whole of the defense was withdrawn to the inner line of forts, the intervals between which had been strongly fortified. The ground which had been lost enabled the enemy to plant his batteries to bombard the city."

"The inner line of defenses was maintained during Wednesday and Thursday, while the city endured a ruthless bombardment.

"The behavior of the Royal Marines and naval brigades in the trenches and in the field was praiseworthy in a high degree and remarkable in units so newly formed and owing to the protection of the entrenchments the losses in spite of the severity of the fire, are probably less than 300 out of a total force of 8,000 men.

"The defense could have been maintained for a longer period, but not long enough to allow of adequate forces being sent for their relief, without prejudice to the main strategic situation.

"The enemy also began on Thursday to press strongly on the line of communications near Lokeren. The Belgian forces defending this point fought with great determination but were gradually pressed back by numbers.

Decide to Evacuate City.
"In these circumstances the Belgian and British military authorities in Antwerp decided to evacuate the city. The British offered to cover the retreat, but General De Guise desired that they should leave before the last division of the Belgian army.

"After a long night march to Saint Gilles the three naval brigades entrained. Two out of the three have arrived safely at Ostend but, owing to circumstances which are not yet fully known, the greater part of the first naval brigade was cut off by a German attack north of Lokeren and 2,000 officers and men entered Dutch territory in Hulst and laid down their arms in accordance with the laws of neutrality.

"The retreat from Ghent onward of the naval divisions and of the naval armored trains and heavy guns were all brought away.

"The retreat from Ghent on ward off the naval divisions and of the Belgian army was covered by strong British reinforcements.

"Vast numbers of the non-combatant population of Antwerp, men, women and children are streaming westward from the ruined and burning city."

The admiralty also reports in the same statement that the naval aviation park, having completed its attack on Busseldert and Cologne, already reported, has returned safely to its base, protected by armored cars.

MEMBERS INDULGE IN BITTER PERSONALITIES

REPRESENTATIVE HEFLIN CALLS MINORITY LEADER MANN A LIAR

Illinois Member Charges Hefflin Made a Speech Against Suffrage Which Was an Insult to Women—Part of Remarks Are Expunged From Record.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Bitter personalities were exchanged in the house today between Representative Mann, the minority leader and Representative Hefflin of Alabama, during the discussion of a woman suffrage amendment offered by Mr. Mann to the Philippine independence bill. Mr. Hefflin called Mr. Mann a liar and the latter charged that the Alabama member had made a speech in the house against suffrage which was an insult to womanhood.

After strenuous debate a portion of Representative Mann's remarks was ordered expunged from the record by a vote of 152 to 66. The matter ordered expunged was a remark made by the minority leader when Representative Hefflin recalled a speech Mr. Mann had made two years ago at the time of the suffrage parade in Washington when a girl was insulted. Mr. Hefflin declared that Mr. Mann had insisted the young woman should have remained at home. "I thought it better to be at home than in that parade," Mr. Mann said in reply, "for fear the gentleman from Alabama should have seen her. He would have been sure to have insulted her."

Uproar followed this remark by the minority leader, representative of Virginia joining with Representative Hefflin in demanding accurate recording of the statement.

"I repudiate that statement," Mr. Hefflin said excitedly. "It is that a man unworthy of a seat on this floor, the statement is without foundation and unjustified from any source."

After the remark had been expunged from the record debate ensued on the Mann amendment which would provide suffrage for women in the Philippines and in this a colloquy occurred between the Illinois and Alabama members during which Representative Hefflin declared:

"I pronounce the gentleman from Illinois a liar."

The suffrage amendment was defeated by a vote of 84 to 58.

RESERVE BOARD APPROVES
PRINCIPLE OF COTTON FUND

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The federal reserve board tonight announced its approval in principle of the plan for a $150,000,000 fund to take care of the surplus cotton crop.

Governor Hamlin of the board, in a letter to Fessius J. Wade, of St. Louis, one of the plan's backers, said that while the board could not express itself upon details it was of the opinion that just administration of such a fund would benefit those interested and that the rest of the nation as well. He expressed the hope that the banks and merchants would subscribe.

BAGGAGE ARRIVES FROM EUROPE

New York, Oct. 10.—The final movement of baggage abandoned by thousands of Americans in their haste to leave Germany at the outbreak of the war has just arrived in the country and is being held here awaiting identification by the owners.

Five carloads, comprising 1,500 pieces of baggage which were forwarded from Rotterdam, are now in the hands of its owners. The American embassy in Berlin has assisted in sending baggage to Americans who departed hurriedly for their native land.

LACK OF SPEAKERS
INTERUPT DEBATE

Washington, Oct. 10.—Lack of speakers interrupted the debate on the war revenue bill in the senate today after Senator Simmons chairman of the finance committee, opened discussion of the measure.

Senator Simmons explained the measure in detail, asserting that, on the basis of last year's statistics, it was expected to approximate revenue of $107,000,000. When he concluded other senators were not prepared to continue the discussion and further consideration of the measure was deferred until Monday.

KING CHARLES OF
RUMANIA IS DEAD

Aged Ruler Passes Away at His Country Seat at Sinaia in Walachia

RUMANIA'S FIRST KING

Young German Prince Successfully Governs Latin People and is Made King

DID NOT MAKE ALLIANCES

PETROGRAD, Oct. 10. (via London)—King Charles of Rumania is dead.

Death Occurs at Sinaia.

London, Oct. 10.—According to a despatch from Bucharest to the Reuter Telegram Co., the death of King Charles of Rumania occurred at 6:30 o'clock this morning at his country seat at Sinaia in Walachia.

Sketch of Monarch's Life.

Charles I. was Rumania's first king. The story of his career spanning 75 years, is that of a German Prince elected to govern a Latin people, out of which experience Rumanians or those who have followed the fortunes of that buffer state will recall much that is stirring if not romantic.

Prince Charles was born a Hohenzollern, an older branch of the family than that of Emperor William of Germany, but none the less proud of his blood. He was the son of Prince Charles Anthony of Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen, who voluntarily resigned the Hohenzollern regency in favor of the Prussian crown and subsequently became prime minister of Prussia.

It was while Charles was serving, at the age of 27 years, as an officer of high rank in the Prussian guard, that the Turkish provinces of Walachia and Moldavia united to call themselves Rumania and, casting their eyes about Europe for a foreign prince to govern them—since no native prince had been successful—looked the advice of Napoleon III, and invited Roy Charles to be their prince.

With Austria at that time preparing to fight Prussia, young Charles' departure for Rumania was such a perilous undertaking that he made it secretly. He disguised himself as a Russian merchant bound for Odessa and sailed down the Danube, jumping ashore on Rumanian territory on May 20, 1866 and made his way to the palace at Bucharest where he was proclaimed Prince three days later. Napoleon III, he told him that nothing was more difficult than to govern a Latin race. The young prince soon found that he had been well advised in this respect. He was homelick and beset with innumerable difficulties, growing out of the fact that the country was struggling with a new constitution that gave the people an unaccustomed liberty and that he made no secret of his purpose to plant among them the civilization of Germany, though he sincerely desired to become the best Rumanian of them all. His great confidence, in the virtue of Hohenzollern blood, brought him energy and patience which later won the hearts of his people.

ORDERS WABASH RECEIVER TO APPLY FOR RATE INCREASE

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 10.—The receiver of the Wabash railroad was ordered today by Elmer S. Adams, United States circuit judge, to apply to the interstate commerce commission and to various state public service commissions for authority to increase passenger and freight rates.

This order was made after E. B. Pryor, receiver, had made a report of Wabash receipts and expenditures that indicated that the road was not earning its fixed charges, in spite of the fact that its earnings last year were the second largest in the railroad's history.

Judge Adams filed an order stating that "the surplus earnings of the property, applicable to fixed charges, are less than the interest on the underlying mortgage bonds, by $350,000."

BIENNIAL IS THEME AT WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING

all clubs for the purposes of mutual benefit and organized endeavor. The club that does not belong to a federation is in a position similar to that of the club woman who does not belong to a club. This woman is interested in club work but not sufficiently to join a club and find out what other club women are doing. The club that does not belong to a federation is not likely to be in touch with club work, does not have the benefit of the experiences of other clubs nor does it receive the inspiration that must come from association with many clubs.

"The work of the General Federation is handled through departments. These departments are art, literature, music, civics, civil service reform, conservation, education, household economics, industrial and social conditions, legislative, public health, pure food, library extension, philanthropy and others.

"The principal work of each of these departments is to give advice and assistance to all clubs whose work is along these lines. The members of these departments or committees are women thoroughly trained in the work they are doing. They are from the cities, the small towns and the rural districts in order that they may, as a whole, understand the club problems of all communities. Many of them are women whose whole lives are given to certain kinds of club work. Often they are women whose lives have been closely touched by evils which they are now trying to remedy.

Federation and Club.

"The General Federation used the individual club. It needs the Jacksonville Woman's club. We are doing things here well worth while and our experiences are valuable to other clubs. The Federation wants to know how we have met our problems, where we have succeeded and where we have failed in order that our experiences may be passed on to other clubs.

"The Federation needs our help in carrying on the great public work that it has undertaken. The Federation has planned nation wide reforms in schools, civic conditions, public health, child welfare and philanthropy and here in Jacksonville the club women are working along these lines and in working as a unit of the General Federation we are giving strength to that great organization and adding our influence to the splendid ideals for which it is working.

In Chicago Schools.

"Every community faces a tuberculosis problem and all are rejoiced at the air given by the fight in Jacksonville by the favorable action of the Board of Education with regard to the open air school," said Mrs. Havenhill in introducing Mrs. Adams, who said in part:

"A gratifying fact in connection with the work done by these children is that owing to the pure fresh air and the physical exercise and rest taken they do not fall behind other children, but do really accomplish as much or more with less expenditure of effort.

"By experiment it has been proved that in winter when heat is on the air of the average school room is drier than any known climate, and it is the extreme contrast of being shut up seven or eight hours a day in such an atmosphere and then going out into the damp air of the out-of-doors that furnishes good opportunity for developing colds, sore throats and lung troubles. It has also been proved that the children of these open air rooms are not as susceptible to catching cold nor do they contract the various other children's diseases near as readily as the children who sit all day cooped in the dry, hot school room.

"So it is to be hoped that some day not too far distant all the schoolrooms may be open window rooms.

HART A. WITHEE.

Hart A. Withee, republican candidate for superintendent of schools, has been a successful teacher and a successful superintendent of Morgan county schools.

He has been identified with the school work of this county more than twenty-five years, having taught in every grade in the common schools and every year in the high school course. His term as county superintendent was characterized by a great uplift and progress in the schools of this county.

Mr. Withee's experience as teacher and superintendent fit him well for the position of county superintendent, an office that should have a person of much experience in all lines of school work.

Mr. Withee is an Odd Fellow and served for a number of years as recording secretary of Urban Lodge No. 243, I. O. O. F. He is a charter member of Cedar Camp No. 1093, Modern Woodmen of America and is a member of the Brooklyn M. E. church of this city.

BURGLARS WERE CAPTURED SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Servance and Shampoo Who Were Recently Paroled From Michigan Reformatory Confess to Robbing Brady Bros. Store—Men Were Found in Tendick Barn.

After an exciting chase Saturday afternoon members of the police department arrested Charles Servance and Edward Shampoo who broke in to Brady Bros. store at an early hour Saturday morning. The young men are about twenty years of age and were recently paroled from the Michigan reformatory school at Ionia, Michigan. Servance formerly lived here and became acquainted with Shampoo at Ionia. The two confessed to Chief of Police Davis that they had stolen the goods and that they effected an entrance with a file and wrench which they stole earlier in the evening from Meany's blacksmith shop.

Servance was held for the police by Frank Tendick, former deputy sheriff, who found the men in the barn at his residence at the corner of Superior avenue and Tendick street. Shampoo made his escape and subsequent to a cross country run of six or seven miles was arrested by officers who had pursued him on foot and in an automobile.

Servance and Shampoo were asleep in the Tendick barn when Mr. Tendick went to the hay loft about 11:30 Saturday morning to throw down some sheaf oats. Mr. Tendick happened to notice a pair of shoes and a revolver lying on the straw near a pigeon cot. At first he thought they might possibly have been placed there by his son Leo, and called out to see if the boy was in the loft. About this time Mr. Tendick noticed the head of a man who was evidently asleep in the straw, and he called out loudly enough to awaken him and demanded that he leave the loft. There proved to be two men and one of them was without shoes, and they quickly left the loft and asked to be allowed to get a drink of water.

Mr. Tendick told the men that they were under arrest and called to his little daughter to send a phone message to the police department. The child was too frightened to telephone and it became necessary for Mr. Tendick to step inside the house and send the message himself, and while he was within the house Shampoo made his escape. Servance, however, who was without shoes, did not attempt to get away.

Patrolman Eades was the only officer at headquarters when the message from Mr. Tendick was received. He took the police department rig and, accompanied by John Taylor, made a hasty trip to the Tendick house. There they secured Servance and started with the rig in direction taken by Shampoo. Subsequently Officer Eades left Servance in Taylor's care and went on foot across fields. Meanwhile Chief of Police Davis, Desk Sergeant Kiloran and Street Commissioner Spaulding went in an automobile to assist in the pursuit of Shampoo. Various messages having been received at police department about a man who was running across country in the Buckhorn neighborhood, Patrolman Tuttle and McGinnis also started in a buggy.

Shampoo was located in a meadow near the home of Martin Joyce and with Messrs. Kiloran and Spaulding following closely after him he fled rapidly eastward. By the time he was within a few hundred yards of the South Main street road Chief of Police Davis with Officer Eades had by means of the automobile reached a point on the roadway so that as the fugitive approached it he was practically surrounded. He was also very much worn by his long cross country run and there was little difficulty in capturing him in the end and he surrendered to Patrolman Eades. At the police headquarters he stated that his name was James Cook but later admitted his identity and record.

Servance has been in trouble before and is said to have recently terminated a sentence at the Michigan reformatory. There was no doubt but that the men were guilty of robbing the Brady Bros. store, for when Officer Eades and Mr. Tendick searched the hay loft they found two more revolvers in addition to the automatic which Mr. Tendick had taken with him when he first found the men, and in addition, two police search-lights, a knife and a hunting cap, all of which were easily identified as having come from the Brady store.

Chief of Police Davis telegraphed to Ionia about the arrest of the men and is likely they will be returned to the reformatory. The Chief of Police and the State's attorney think this course would be best and would occasion no expense to the county.

PHYSICIANS AND DENTISTS TO GATHER IN JOINT MEETING

Morgan County Dental and Medical Societies Will Hold Luncheon Thursday at Dunlap and Listen to Addresses by Dr. Herbert A. Potts.

Dr. Herbert A. Potts of Chicago, a former resident of Jacksonville, will be the speaker Thursday at the joint meeting of the Morgan County Dental and the Morgan County Medical societies, for which invitations have just been issued. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock after which Dr. Potts will be heard on the subject, "Mouth Infections in Relation to General Systematic Conditions." Dental clinics will follow the address and the annual election of the dental society officers will be held at the close of the meeting. The committee in charge of the program consists of Dr. J. C. Widenham, chairman; Dr. C. B. Powell, Dr. W. B. Young and Dr. Alpha B. Applebee.

Dr. Potts was graduated from the dental school of Northwestern university in 1895 and practiced several years in Bloomington. He later attended the Northwestern Medical school and was for a time at the Jacksonville state hospital. Dr. Potts spent a number of years in the hospitals of Chicago and Vienna and is eminently qualified to speak on the subject announced.

The Farms of America will be called upon as never before to help feed Europe.

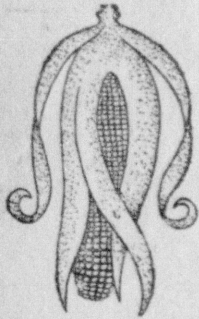

THE DEMAND FOR FARM PRODUCTS will be sure and strong for several years to come. American farms may be pushed to the limit to supply this demand.

PREPARE FOR THE 1915 HARVEST. Careful seed selection, thorough tillage and cultivation and good judgment will bring increased crops. More intensive cultivation, quite as much as increased acreage, will bring farm prosperity.

DIVERSIFY YOUR CROPS. Experience proves that a one-crop country cannot continue permanently prosperous. Raise more live stock. Plant more legumes. Cows, cattle, hogs, poultry, alfalfa, clover and soy beans mean ready money and fat bank accounts as well as more fertile fields.

DON'T SPECULATE on the fluctuations in the prices of farm products or on the other fellow's game. Expand along legitimate lines.

MORGAN COUNTY with its fertile lands and intelligent farmers was never in a more secure position or one that promises more if the opportunities are embraced.

The Farmers' State Bank and Trust Company

has all faith in the future of this community. It welcomes the business of farmers and extends to them every accommodation for the expansion of their business to which they are entitled.

BIENNIAL IS THEME AT WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING

CHICAGO DELEGATES REPORT AT THE ANNUAL LUNCHEON

Jacksonville Organization Begins Work of Year With Interesting and Profitable Gathering at Which General Federation Convention is Topic.

The recent convention in Chicago of the General Federation of Women's clubs was the theme of the afternoon Saturday at the annual luncheon and first gathering for the year of the Jacksonville Woman's club, held at 1 o'clock at Central Christian church. Mrs. M. H. Havenhill, president of the club, presided and Miss Mary L. Roades was a guest of honor. Addresses were made by Mrs. Miller Weir, Mrs. Havenhill, Mrs. A. L. Adams, Miss Katherine Olmsted, Miss Annie Hinrichsen and Dr. Josephine Milligan. One hundred twenty-five sat down to the luncheon, served in the church dining room under auspices of the Domestic Science Round Table. Flowers and autumn foliage formed the decorations and hand painted favors of autumn leaf design were used as place cards.

The program was prepared by the regular club committee composed of Miss Nettie Hayden, chairman; Miss S. Frances Wood, Dr. Grace Dewey, Mrs. G. E. Doying and Miss Louise Capps. Mrs. Ben Lurton, as head of the Round Table had general direction of the luncheon, with Mrs. E. D. Pyatt and Mrs. J. W. Litter's circles of the Pastoral Helpers and Miss Marie Scott and a number of young ladies from the high school, assisting. The invocation was said by Mrs. G. W. Flege.

A few words were spoken by Miss Mary L. Roades, the guest of honor. Miss Roades is one of the four women of Illinois who were delegates to the meeting called in March, 1889, by the Sorosis club of New York City, a gathering from which resulted the organization of the general Federation of Women's clubs.

[Mrs. Havenhill gave the first formal address, introducing thereafter Mrs. Weir. General club ideals and the various biennials of the federation were the theme of Mrs. Havenhill. The first biennial was held in Chicago in 1892 and the twelfth and latest was entertained last June by the same city. Intellectual development alone was specified as the purpose of the first clubs. The work carried on today by woman's clubs is large and varied.

ADD PICKUP

The Local Open Air School. Miss Katherine Olmsted discussed the local open air school and told of her visit to such institutions while in attendance at the Missouri Valley Conference on Tuberculosis in session last week at St. Louis. "The Board has agreed to furnish the school, equipment and teacher but there still remain a number of items which will entail considerable expense. Warm coats, caps, mittens, blankets and cots must be furnished and there must be funds for providing food."

A Public Health Ideal. "Public Health and Social Service" was the subject of Dr. Josephine Milligan on what seems to have been the most important theme discussed at the biennial.

"We now have a public health ideal and are not content when but ordinary health is the rule. We wish to have supermen and superwomen. We realize that for all the goal is perfection and that every individual has the right to perfect health."

"Private initiative has always begun the progress toward this ideal. After a public health measure has been thoroughly tried and found to be practicable it is assumed by the state and paid for from the taxes. If we lived up to the knowledge that scientists have worked out, two thirds at least of the total sickness in the world would be done away with. The key-note throughout the biennial was prevention. We have got to catch up in our daily living with what we know to be the facts with regard to hygiene and health."

Mrs. Miller Weir in discussing the Biennial with reference to "Its Organization," said:

"Although I stayed so short a time at the convention, I esteem it a great privilege to have been there at all, for it was indeed a notable gathering, representing the largest organization of its kind in the world, and the reports that were read telling of great deeds done in the past and expressing the hope and determination to achieve even greater things in the future, make me thrill with pride to think it was given unto women in these days to accomplish so much for the betterment of humanity and to feel myself even the smallest fractional part of such an organization. Truly it was a time of history making and if the plans discussed can be carried out society will be changed, old customs will have passed away and many things will become gloriously new."

"During past years the matter of joining the General Federation," said Mrs. Havenhill, "has been discussed from time to time in our Woman's club, but the national organization as well as its biennial conventions seemed far away to most of us. So for reasons both financial and conservative no action was taken in the matter until last spring. Today I think we are as one in thinking the step has broadened and strengthened our own circle. We will be glad to hear from Miss Annie Hinrichsen on the subject of 'The Individual Club and the Federation.'"

In Union is Strength. Miss Annie Hinrichsen said: "The General Federation is a union of

LONDON RELIEF COMMITTEE WORK IS REVIEWED

Detailed Report Is Made to Ambassador—Vast Number of Tourists Given Aid.

London, Sept. 25.—(Correspondent of The Associated Press.)—The relief committee formed by Americans resident in London has wound up business, and its chairman, Herbert Clark Hoover, has submitted a report to Ambassador Page showing in detail the work done.

The initial move was taken by Mr. Hoover on August 2 when Consul General Skinner advised him of the acute temporary destitution of many tourists on account of the series of bank holidays during the first few days of August. Hoover gathered some $4,500 in cash with which a loan bureau was opened in the consulate. Applicants were given small loans without security and without interest, but to date all of the loans have been repaid with the exception of about $250.

The next step was formation of the Committee of American Residents, with Ambassador Page as president, Hoover as chairman, Clarence Graff as treasurer, and F. C. Van Duzer as secretary. The benevolent fund to which the American residents subscribed amounted to $16,333 and a fund to guarantee banking operations amounted to $41,983.

An American Citizen Committee was also formed at a mass meeting of tourists, and Theodore Hetzler was named chairman, W. North Duane secretary and William C. Breed treasurer, all from New York. The departure of members of the tourists' organization caused its practical extinction about the middle of August, but during its existence it spent nearly $5,000 for relief and also $10,000 to the residents' committee.

In mid-August, the committee was authorized by Dr. Page to draw on and help administer the congressional fund of $300,000.

So far $135,000 has been drawn from the congressional appropriation, covering the relief of 4,000 persons. But the committee has made available to Americans in all about $400,000 through supplemental banking and various means. Over 9,200 have been financed home either entirely or in part by the committee.

There has been some friction between the committee and a small minority of refugees who objected either to drawing on their own resources for their fares home or to accepting third class on the steamers. But the large majority have been grateful for an opportunity to help themselves.

At times the committee had as many as 2,000 persons in lodgings under its control, involving a vast amount of work. On one day 900 tourists arrived at Victoria Station from Flushing between 9 a. m. and midnight. Of these 465 were advanced money on the platform for immediate food, and altogether 620 sent to selected lodgings. The unescorted women and children alone numbered 232. Over $1,500 was expended in this day's work.

Some 30,000 tourists have registered and been indexed with the committee since the beginning, and a daily bulletin with useful information has been issued with a circulation as high as 10,000 copies daily.

FINE APPLES AND AN APPLE.

W. S. Frost of Scott county was in the city Saturday and said that he had heard it reported that there were no really good apples in this section of the state this fall. To disprove this he brought with him from his orchard and left at the Ayers National Bank, samples of American black Improved Maiden bluen and Ben Davis apples of fine size and appearance. Mr. Frost uses scientific methods in his orchards, having the trees properly sprayed and cared for in such manner the trees repay the care and attention bestowed by large and satisfactory returns.

In the London Daily Mail of recent date is the following story of an apple: "Geo. Pyne of Topham, Devon, states that he has picked in his garden what is believed to be the largest British apple on record. It is a specimen of a variety of cooking apples known as the Wilby. It weighs 2 lbs. 2 1/2 oz. and measured 1 foot, 5 3/4 inches around and was 5 1/8 inches high. Twelve apples of the same variety weighed one stone less 6 oz. (The English stone is 14 pounds.)"

ARRANGEMENTS ALL COMPLETE FOR BANKERS MEETING

Fortieth Convention of American Association Will be Held This Week at Richmond.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 10.—The programme and other arrangements have been completed for the fortieth annual convention of the American Bankers' Association, which is to be held in this city during the coming week. Requests for accommodations received by the local hotels indicate that the convention will be largely attended by well-known bankers and business men from all sections of the country.

The sessions of the association proper will be preceded on Tuesday by the annual meetings of the departmental organizations, including the Savings Bank section, the Trust Company section, the Clearing House section and the State Secretaries' section. A special feature of the meeting of the Clearing House section will be an exhaustive discussion of the rules and regulations governing the operation of the Federal Reserve Banks.

The first of the general sessions of the association will be held Wednesday morning in the auditorium of the Jefferson Hotel. President Arthur Reynolds will call the gathering to order and Bishop Collins Denny will deliver the invocation. Addresses of welcome will be made by Governor Henry C. Stuart of Virginia, Mayor George Ainslie of Richmond and Col. John B. Purcell, president of the Richmond Clearing House Association. The response to the greetings will be embodied in the annual address of President Arthur Reynolds, of Des Moines. President Reynolds' address will be followed by the annual reports of Secretary Fred E. Farnsworth of New York, Treasurer J. W. Hoopes of Galveston, and the heads of the several standing committees. The initial session will be brought to a close with an address by Martin W. Littleton of New York.

The leading feature of the afternoon session will be an address on the "Federal Reserve System," by Congressman Carter Glass, chairman of the House committee on banking and currency.

Agricultural credits and closer co-operation between the bankers and the farmers will be the general subject of discussion at the Thursday morning session. The proceedings will be opened with the report of the Agricultural Commission, presented by Chairman B. F. Harris, of Champaign, Ill. The report will be followed by short addresses presented by Logan Waller Page, director of the Public Roads Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture, on "Fundamental Problems in Highway Improvement;" Dr. Edward K. Graham, president of the University of North Carolina, on "The Banker and the Larger Citizenship;" Dr. C. G. Hopkins of the University of Illinois, on "Soil Fertility: Greatest Necessity and the Best Investment," and Dr. J. D. Eggleston, president of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, on "Educating the Producer." The proceedings will be brought to a close Thursday afternoon with the disposal of unfinished business and the election and installation of new officers.

The business sessions of the convention will be interspersed with many elaborate features of entertainment prepared by the local committees. One of the most notable features of the entertainment programme will be a trip down the historic James River and a visit to Jamestown, the site of the landing of the first English settlers in America.

The first musical event will be a grand concert at the City Auditorium. Alma Gluck, Antonio Scotti and other world famous artists will contribute to the programme.

The Governor's Ball will be the crowning social event of the week. This great reception and ball will be given on Tuesday night in one of the large armories. Gov. Stuart will head the receiving line. Richmond will afford opportunity to all lovers of golf to indulge freely in the game while in attendance at the convention, as the Directors of the Country Club of Virginia and the Hermitage Golf Club have tendered the hospitality of their clubs and links to all delegates and guests.

Many special functions have been arranged for the pleasure and entertainment of the ladies who accompany the delegates. Chief among these will be a reception to be given at the Commodore wealth Club on Monday afternoon and a luncheon at the Country club of Virginia on Wednesday. Many minor social events, concerts and theatre parties will be given and there will be daily automobile rides to points of interest in and around the city.

SUGGESTIONS FOR CARE OF TIRES WHEN NOT IN USE DURING WINTER MONTHS.

When you are through with your car for the season, jack it up, remove the tires from the rims, and wash them well with soap and water. Be sure to remove all traces of oil or grease. The rims too should be sandedpapered to remove all traces of rust accumulation and painted with liquid graphite.

For the best protection, the tires should be wrapped in clean cloth or paper and laid flat in a cool, dark place. If possible, store tires where they will not be subjected to extremes of heat and cold. A temperature of 40 to 60 degrees is most favorable for avoiding chemical action in the rubber.

Most tires are encased in heavy paper at the factory, by a special wrapping machine, to protect them from the deteriorating influence of light until such time as they are ready for use.

A very effective way is to wrap them in strips of muslin or burlap, about three inches wide. Wind these strips around the tire and have each wrap lap over about one inch.

Inner tubes should be deflated, and placed in a box, or wrapped in a clean cloth or paper, and laid flat in a dark place with no weight resting on them. If they are left in the tubes, they should be partly inflated.

Never let the weight of the car rest on the tires when laying up for the winter months. Jack it up and allow the axles to rest on supports. The constant weight on one part of the tire will cause it to flatten at that point, creasing the fabric and greatly weakening it. If the tires are left on the rims, they should be thoroughly cleaned and repaired and only enough air pressure left in the tubes to keep them well rounded. This prevents them from wrinkling or cracking.

While the car is not in use is an opportune time to have necessary repairs made on tires. It is the repair shop slack season, and, as you are in no hurry for the return of the tires, they can devote all the time necessary for your job and do it right.

Examine tires well and have all cuts in the tread extending through to the fabric, repaired.

By following these suggestions, you can add many miles to the life of your tires.

JOHN J. REEVE

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY JUDGE OF MORGAN COUNTY

(Jacksonville Journal Editorial, October 9.)

John J. Reeve was born and reared on a farm east of Jacksonville, and has lived in the county substantially all of his life, his ancestors having been among the earliest settlers in the county. He began the active practice of law in 1891, in Jacksonville with Morrison & Whitlock; served as City Attorney of Jacksonville from 1895 to 1899, and in 1899 formed a partnership with the late Isaac L. Morrison and Thomas Worthington, under the firm name of Morrison, Worthington & Reeve. This partnership continued until the death of Mr. Morrison in 1901, after which the firm name was Worthington & Reeve until 1912, when Mr. Hugh Green became a member of the firm.

Mr. Reeve's practice has brought him into one side or the other of most of the important litigation in this county, and of as much in adjoining counties. He is now president of the Morgan County Bar Association, is a member of Grace M. E. church, Grand Master at Arms of the Order of Knights of Pythias. He is also a member of the I. O. O. F., M. W. A., Elks, Masons, including the Order of Knight Templar, a member of the Order of Red Men and of the Court of Honor.

Aside from criminal business, the County Court is now of far greater importance to the people of the county than the Circuit Court, as it handles a much greater volume of business affecting the most intimate business and domestic relations of the people. In all this class of business Mr. Reeve has had a wide experience, including such cases as the settlement of estates, special assessments and drainage matters, criminal cases, the management of the estates of minors and insane persons, the handling of matters relating to taxation, and such other subjects as necessarily come before the county court. His experience in all this class of business will be of great value to the people of the county, if he is elected county judge, and will save to them a large amount both in time and money. He already knows how to despatch the business of the court and do it promptly, this experience, training and character eminently fit him for the office of County Judge and it is to the interest of the people that a person with these qualifications should be elected to that important office.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

A large orchestra has been organized with a total membership of twenty-eight. The first rehearsal was held last Thursday night and was most satisfactory in every respect. The orchestra will meet regularly and will give a concert after the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. Day, the head of the Violin department, gave an address at the South Side Circle Friday afternoon, her topic being, "Russia." Since Mrs. Day spent two years in St. Petersburg, studying under Leopold Auer she is able to give a very interesting description of the Russian capital and many of the customs of the Russian people. After leaving St. Petersburg she traveled extensively over southern Russia and became quite familiar with that part of the empire.

The Freshmen class spent Monday afternoon in the country, going out on hayracks. A picnic supper was served and a most delightful time was enjoyed. The same evening the Third Academy class had a picnic supper at Nichols park.

President Barker returned Thursday night after several days absence in the interest of the college.

Founders' Day will be observed Thursday morning at the regular chapel hour. This year will be known as the Wadsworth Memorial. Fitting commemorative exercises will be observed. Honorable Richard Yates will be the principal speaker. After the exercises the students and faculty will go to the home of Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Pitzer at Fairview where the annual picnic will be held.

RALLY DAY AT GRACE CHURCH.

Beginning with the opening of Sunday school at 9:30 this morning there will be a genuine rally in all departments of Grace church today. There will be special music at all the services. Everyone is welcome, and all members of the congregation are urged to attend these services.

Dinnertime

When dinner is ready my worries depart, all gone are the sorrows that burdened my heart; the scent of the victuals brings calmness and peace, the scent of the cabbage, the onions, the grease; my thoughts are of turnips and early June peas, of pie and of pudding, spaghetti and cheese. I kick up my heels and I stand on my head, for I am an optimist when I am fed. The woes of my life are a pestilent lot; they keep me excited and worried and hot; the bills I must pay with no money in sight, the fear that my health isn't perfectly right, and dread of results if I chance to fall sick, the coal I must buy—and they won't sell on tick, the high cost of living that's keeping me broke, the shriveling income that goes up in smoke—such worries are making me much like a wreck, but all are forgotten when dinner's on deck! The dinner gong calls to the succulent roast, the scalloped potatoes, the tea and the toast. The dinner gong sounds and I've no time to waste, I leap over tables and chairs in my haste. Gone, gone the foreboding, the dread, the dread, for I am an optimist when I am fed!

SURE WAY TO GET RID OF DANDRUFF

End Itching Scalp and Stop Falling Hair—At Once.

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to keep your hair looking rich, do by all means get rid of dandruff for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

STALLINGS' BRAVES CAPTURE SECOND GAME OF SERIES FROM ATHLETICS

Teams Fight Eight Innings Without Either Getting An Advantage

BREAK COMES IN NINTH

Deal Upsets Plank's Expectations—Dashes Across Plate With Winning Tally

MACKMEN RALLY SHORT LIVED

Philadelphia, Oct. 10.—In a pitchers' battle with a dramatic climax usually reserved for baseball fiction, the Philadelphia Athletics here today in the second game of the World's Series by 1 to 0. As a result of the victory the Braves left for Boston tonight with a two game lead over the Athletics and the added advantage of playing the next two contests on their home grounds when the series is resumed on Monday.

Although the American League representatives were forced to bow for the second time in two days, to the superior play of the National League rivals, they offered a far more defensive opposition than was the case on Friday. In eight innings the two clubs battled behind the pitching of Deal and Plank without the semblance of an advantage. Then came the break in the game and once again the Mackmen saw another world's series contest slip from their clutches to the credit of the Stallings clan.

James had been pitching unhit-able ball and Plank, while not quite as effective, had, with the aid of his remarkable infield, held Boston scoreless. The Athletic veteran twirler was working as smoothly as at the beginning of the game when Maranville faced him at the opening of the ninth inning. The phantom like shortstop went out Barry to McInnis and Deal, substitute third baseman in place of Red Smith, stepped up to the plate. The Athletic followers were already figuring on what chance their players had to win in the ninth. Deal and James appeared to be easy outs. The Boston's third sacker, who had hit into three double plays on Friday and forced three teammates in yesterday, was not considered a bating factor.

Deal Upsets Plank's Expectations. It was Deal, however, who upset Plank's expectations and the Athletics chances. He drove a double over Strunk's head and a moment later stole third when Schang threw low to Barry to catch Deal on the base. Barry turned to throw to third but held the ball and Deal was safe. Whether Deal was close enough to the bag or Barry believed it was too late to head off the runner is not known. James fanned, but Mann lifted a low, puzzling Texas League over Eddie Collins' head and although the latter made a great try for the ball, he just touched it with his finger tips and sprawled in the turf. Deal dashing across the plate with the only run of the game.

The Athletics replied with a great rally in their half of the game and James, who had carried the game on his shoulders alone up to this point, began to totter. The thousands of rosters for the home club were stamping, cheering and clapping in unison and Barry waited patiently until James passed him to first. Schang fanned, but Walsh, batting for Plank, also was walked by the rattled pitcher.

With two on and one out the fans felt sure that the Mackmen were to break through and win and the uproar was deafening. Eddie Murphy, lead-off man for the Athletics, stepped to the plate and catching one of James' curves full on the end of his bat drove a leaping grounder to the left of second base. Maranville sprang with the crack of the bat and with a catlike bound clutched the ball, and with another leaped touched the bag, forcing Walsh. With almost the same motion he snapped the ball to Schmidt at first, for a double on Murphy and a second later went down in a cloud of dust as Walsh crashed into him at topspeed. When he scrambled to his feet the other players were running for the club house and the game was saved.

Play Comes at Dramatic Moment. The scintillating play came at a most opportune and dramatic moment for James had begun to falter after pitching a game, which for skill and control, has never been surpassed in a world's series match in this city, not even in the twirling duels in which Christy Mathewson, Chief Bender and Plank have figured. The Boston slaban had perfect control, change of pace and a splitter that broke like a flash of lightning. He fanned eight of the heavy hitting Athletics, including Murphy, Oldring, McInnis and Strunk and when the batters did connect with his delivery the usual result was a weak hoist or roller. This is best demonstrated by the fact that 24 of the 27 putouts made by Boston were credited to the infield or batteries.

James gave three passes, two coming in the ninth inning when the Athletics came nearest to scoring. The Mackmen got only two players safely past first and had only one left on base. Of the two hits charged against James, the one of Collins would have been an easy out for Evers but for the fact that it bounded so high that the batter beat the throw by a step. Plank, while he pitched a splendid game for his club, was forced to divide more honors with his teammates than James. The Athletic veteran's pitching was not quite the enigma to the Boston batters that James' was to the White Elephants. Plank was several times saved by the sensational fielding of Baker, Barry, Collins and McInnis. He fanned six Braves, pitcher James striking out four times in succession; gave four bases on balls and hit one batter. Of the twenty-seven putouts made by the Mackmen the battery and infield accounted for twenty-one. Plank had to watch the bases closer than James, for eleven Bostonians were stranded to the Athletics' one.

Play Remarkable Game. Considering the closeness and strain of the game each team played remarkable baseball. There were errors of commission and omission but all were excusable under the conditions. Maranville and Deal got mixed on McInnis' first foul in the eighth inning and the shortstop was hardly prepared for the chance. The Athletics' error was charged to McInnis, who failed to hold a wide throw from Barry, although he stretched until he fell over trying to get a clutch on the ball. Schang appeared to have difficulty in holding Plank's delivery at times, but escaped without a black mark from the scorers. He also figured in the only play over which there was any aftermath. Following his double in the sixth inning, he attempted to steal third when Gowdy dropped one of James' shoots. The Braves' catcher recovered the ball in time to nip Schang at Deal's station, but the Athletics said after the game that he was safe. They claimed that the game broke for Boston there, for with Schang safe at third and only one out the chances for a scoring drive by the head of the batting list were excellent.

Although the home fans were more enthusiastic than on Friday, there was little effort on the part of the thousands to find fault with the arbiters' decisions. They cheered lustily and endeavored to rattle James and encourage the Mackmen in the closing innings, but frankly acknowledged after the game that the Braves' pitcher deserved to win. It was a more typical American baseball scene today than was the case at the opening game.

The sun shone from a cloudless sky with midsummer vigor. Although there was no increase in the paid attendance the surrounding houses appeared about to bend and break under the weight of the hundreds gathered on roofs, porches and at the windows.

Boston's royal rosters were very much in evidence again before, during and after the game. They cheered and sang and when the game was won paraded round the field headed by Captain Johnny Evers, former Mayor Fitzgerald and other celebrities.

The paid admissions each day were the same, 20,562. This was due to the fact that every seat in stands and bleachers was sold by ticket and when all the coupons were honored the gates were closed. Consequently the attendance and receipts today were the same as yesterday. The receipts for the second game amounted to $49,639, of which the National commission received $4,963.90. The players $26,805 and the clubs $17,870.10.

ENGLISH PEOPLE PATRIOTIC. A card received by Prof. J. H. Rayhill from a friend in England may be taken as indicating something of the feeling of the people there relative to the present war. At one side is the motto, "For King and Country", and near it a quotation from a speech made by Pitt in 1805, "England has saved herself before by her courage; she will now save Europe by her example."

ILLINOIS DEFEATS INDIANA WITH EASE

FILE UP 51 POINTS AND HOLD HOOSIERS SCORELESS.

Chicago U. Has No Trouble With Northwestern—Michigan Downs Vanderbilt—Princeton is Victorious Over Syracuse—Harvard Wins From Washington and Jefferson.

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 10.—Illinois swamped Indiana in their annual football game today piling up a score of 51 to 0 against the Hoosiers and easily beating the score which Chicago made last week against Illinois' men. Only in the first quarter did the visitors make serious resistance and in that quarter Illinois counted only nine points. The rest of the game the Illini scored practically at will. Rague was the individual star for Illinois out the home squad's offense was brilliant, fifteen completed forward passes being made by the Illini.

For Indiana, Whitaker and Well-and were most effective on defense. A. Worser of Indiana was banished from the game for roughing Clark of Illinois.

Chicago U., 28; Northwestern, 0. Chicago, Oct. 10.—The University of Chicago today rolled up 28 points against Northwestern and did it with ease, while the purple was unable to score. Northwestern has not crossed Chicago's goal line since 1901.

Owing to the soggy field, the forward pass was little attempted, and gained only once—20 yards—for Chicago. Coach Stagg used many substitutes and Captain Des Jardien was allowed to risk his sore leg in the last few minutes of play. End runs by Gray, Russell Schaefer and Berg counted for most of Chicago's gains. Hightower made a beautiful 40 yard run for Northwestern, but otherwise the visitors were unable to gain consistently.

Michigan, 23; Vanderbilt, 3. Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 10.—Playing through a rainstorm which was responsible for fumbles galore, the football eleven of the University of Michigan today defeated Vanderbilt by 23 to 3. The Southerners handicapped by a green backfield, put up a fierce fight, especially during the last half. The game was rough and spectacular.

Princeton, 12; Syracuse, 7. Princeton, N. J., Oct. 10.—Princeton defeated Syracuse at football here today by 12 to 7. The visitors had a powerful team and they gave the Princeton eleven a hard fight. Law scored the first points on a drop kick from the 18 yard line and a moment later it was followed by the Princeton touchdown by Ames.

The visitors scored their touchdowns in the second quarter after they had advanced the ball by a series of runs and passes to the four yard line, where it took them seven downs to carry over the line on an end run by Seymour. The final points came in the fourth quarter when Law dropped another goal.

Harvard, 10; Washington and J., 9. Cambridge, Oct. 10.—Harvard's football eleven won from Washington and Jefferson today by 10 to 9.

It was not until the last period that the Harvard team triumphed. Washington and Jefferson entered the fourth period leading 9 to 3. Then Harwick moved from left end to left half back to fill one of the gaps, went over the line for a touchdown and kicked goal.

Minnesota, 26; Ames, 0. Minneapolis, Oct. 10.—With a whirlwind attack that dazzled their heavier opponents the University of Minnesota today defeated the State College of Ames, Iowa, 26 to 0. Minnesota pounded the strong Ames line like a battering ram, often tearing down the Iowans defense for big gains. They also used the forward pass to an advantage and gained considerable ground with puzzling fake formations.

Ames played straight football for the most part, apparently depending upon a soggy field and superior weight to offset the Gopher attack.

Drake, 20; Grinnell, 7. Des Moines, Iowa, Oct. 10.—Staging a game comeback after Grinnell had scored a touchdown in the first quarter, Drake outplayed her opponents in the first stiff football game seen here this season and won by 20 to 7. The visitors had a superior line but the broken field running of Donald and Lone, end runs by Shearer coupled with several successful forward passes, brought Drake her scores. Donald, Blackburn and White scored for Drake, while Hammond made the Grinnell touchdown.

Wisconsin U., 48; Marquette, 0. Madison, Wis., Oct. 10.—The University of Wisconsin football team, aided by Mucks, the 260 pounder from Oskosh, had a walk away victory today over Marquette University team here today with a score of 48 to nothing. Mucks' entrance at the beginning of the second half was signaled by fierce lunges against what it seemed none could prevail and bowled every adversary who came in his path. Coach Juneau took him out early to save him for bigger games.

Amherst, 10; Brown, 0. Providence, Oct. 10.—Amherst held Brown to a 10 to 0 game. The Brown players did not get inside their opponents yard line. Their forward passes were unsuccessful and three attempts at field goals failed. The visitors relied on straitlaced punting football and once had the ball on Brown's fifteen yard line.

Lafayette, 0; Pennsylvania U., 0. Philadelphia, Oct. 10.—Lafayette

College held the University of Pennsylvania football eleven to a scoreless tie in the grueling struggle here today. During the four periods Pennsylvania had four distinct chances to get the pigskin over the Lafayette goal line but lacked the punch at critical periods and the eastonians kicked the pigskin out of danger.

Pittsburgh U., 13; Navy, 6. Annapolis, Md., Oct. 10.—Navy's football team was given a 13 to 6 defeat at the hands of Pittsburgh University here today, the visitors getting revenge for their defeat of last year.

Navy missed the only chance it had to kick goal and Pittsburgh lost one chance.

HERPICIDE WILL SAVE IT HERPICIDE WILL SAVE IT TOO LATE FOR HERPICIDE

Falling hair, primarily due to dandruff, conveys the first notice of approaching baldness. This first notice frequently received with nothing more than a feeling of annoyance. If the warning is unheeded, the second notice brings it to you in no uncertain manner that total baldness is all but there.

When this second warning excites nothing but regrets for past neglect, it isn't long until you reach the stage when you may cease to worry. You need a wig. No amount of worry, neglect or regrets ever saved a hair. You best pay attention to the first notice and remember this advertisement.

Newbro's Herpicide

Destroys Dandruff. Stops Falling Hair.

Herpicide saves the hair and also many vain regrets and unpleasant recollections. It is reliable. Having been before the public for more than ten years, the users of this valuable scalp prophylactic are now counted by the thousands.

If you want first hand information concerning the merits of Newbro's Herpicide, ask some of your friends or acquaintances about it. They know, they use it and you may prefer their word to ours.

The greatest force at work boosting Herpicide sales today is the recommendation from one friend to another—the word of mouth testimony.

Newbro's Herpicide was the first remedy compounded in harmony with the scientifically proven germ theory of dandruff. Dandruff causes the hair to fall out. Herpicide is known everywhere as a dandruff eradicator and hair-saver.

TEMPERANCE MEETINGS WILL BE HELD IN COUNTY

Series Part of Country Wide Campaign the Anti-Saloon League Has Inaugurated—Mass Meeting in Jacksonville Next Sunday.

Meetings will be held in Morgan county this week in the interest of the state-wide campaign for national prohibition which the anti-saloon league has inaugurated.

The special Illinois meetings will continue all through the week beginning tomorrow. A meeting will be held at Meredosia Monday; Waverly Tuesday; Franklin Wednesday; Murrayville Thursday, and on Sunday afternoon the Jacksonville meeting will be held at 2:30 in Grace M. E. church. At this union meeting the principal address will be by Rev. Herbert Rood, who has been prominent in the work of the anti-saloon league for several years. Sunday night a meeting is to be held at Chapin and this will complete the series of services so far as this county is concerned.

The special Illinois campaign Oct. 12 to 18, inclusive, will take in over 600 rallies throughout the state with from seventy-five to 100 speakers. Most of these meetings will be held in the evening but a number, notably in Chicago and in others of the larger cities of the state, will be held in the afternoon.

Those cities in which special afternoon rallies on Sunday, October 18, will be held are as follows: Chicago, East St. Louis, Peoria, Springfield, Aurora, Decatur, Elgin, Joliet, Quincy, Rockford, Bloomington, Danville, Galesburg, Alton, Belleville, Cairo, Canton, Champaign, Cicero, Evanston, Freeport, Jacksonville, Lincoln, Mattoon, Belvidere, Oak Park, Streator, DeKalb, Centralia, DuQuoin, Charleston, Peru, Taylorville and Urbana.

Those cities on which Sunday meetings will be held, in addition to those in which afternoon rallies have been arranged, are as follows: Chicago Heights, Itasca, Moline, Rock Island, Nauvoo, Beardstown, Berwyn, Blue Island, Carbondale, Collinsville, Dixon, Edwardsville, Forrest Park, Granite City, Harrisburg, Harvey, Herin, Kewanee, LaGrange, Litchfield, Macomb, Madison, Marion, Maywood, Monmouth, Mount Carmel, Mount Vernon, Olney, Pana, Paris, Perkin, Pontiac, Springfield, Staunton, Sterling.

Representative Richmond Pearson Hobson, of Alabama, hero of the Merrimac, and joint author of the prohibition resolution now pending before congress, will deliver his lecture, "The Great Destroyers," during the week.

The Illinois state league has designated the following speakers from that state to participate in the oratorical campaign: The Revs. A. E. Van Fossen, A. H. Harnly, George McGinnis, C. H. Wilson, E. Earl Ballew, C. W. James, F. Scott McBride and Elmer Williams, and Messrs. G. D. Childs, F. B. Ebert, A. J. Scroggin, George H. Wilson, John Nelson Coltra, M. D.; Samuel Pickel, W. W. Bennett, L. J. Richardson, John F. Cuneen, S. M. Spurgeon, W. J. Moore and M. H. Cleary.

One of the biggest features of the state-wide campaign will be the moving pictures of Jack London's story "John Barleycorn." Few narratives or stories have been so widely read or made such a big hit as "John Barleycorn," published in The Saturday Evening Post.

GIANTS TAKE EXTRA INNING CONTEST FROM HIGHLANDERS

Cook's Error on Demaree's Single Allows Demaree to Score Winning Run—St. Louis Teams Split Two.

Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 10.—A single by Demaree in the tenth inning which Cook let go by him, with the result that Demaree scored on the error, broke a 5 to 5 tie and gave the New York Nationals a 6 to 5 victory over the New York Americans here today. Donlin hitting for Marquard, tripled home two runs in the eighth, scoring the tying run himself on Bescher's sacrifice fly.

COUNT WEDEL MADE DARING RIDE TO SEDAN

German War Report Tells How Officer at Head of Dreaded Uhlans Drove French Stragglers Before Them.

Berlin, September 23. (Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The second of the extended reports issued by the General Staff over phases of the European War describes a scouting expedition of First Lieutenant Count Wedel, who at the head of his regiment of Uhlans, rode out on August 25th from Bouillon toward Sedan, charged with discovering whether the latter place was occupied by the enemy. Count Wedel's regiment was at the van of an army division whose number is not given. The account says:

"According to credible reports, French troops had already marched through Sedan and crossed the Maas. Notwithstanding the fact that German troops, and more especially advance groups of patrols, had been fired upon frequently by remnants of the French troops and also from the windows of houses, Count Wedel, accompanied only by two Uhlans, rode on toward Sedan. At the entrance to the city he encountered a patrolling party of ten men of his own regiment, whom he ordered to join him. With these twelve men Count Wedel rode at a brisk trot throughout the crooked streets of Sedan, the men uttering repeated cheers and everywhere throwing the inhabitants into a panic of fear. With cries of 'The Lancers! The Uhlans!' the citizens fled to their houses and barred windows and doors behind them.

"Straggling soldiers, who happened to be in the streets, threw their guns away and joined in the flight. Count Wedel fired with his revolver at a number of persons who still retained their guns, and these hastily threw their weapons away. At one street corner the count suddenly encountered a detachment of some 30 French infantrymen, who, opened at rapid fire on the patrol. One non-commissioned officer fell, both he and his horse struck by several bullets.

Sergeant Janssen, who regularly rode beside Count Wedel and who had characterized himself by great fearlessness, gave the patrol, which was some thirty paces in the rear, the signal to halt, and the little group retired at a sharp gallop, under a steady fire from the houses.

"After his daring ride Count Wedel was able to report to his commander that Sedan was free of the enemy, with the exception of a few stragglers.

"The count was not fired at by residents of Sedan. His sudden appearance with the dreaded Uhlans caused such panic fear that all the inhabitants simply fled wildly and none of them thought of reaching for his shotgun—a thing which the inhabitants unfortunately otherwise frequently and gladly do."

THOMAS HUGHES.
Republican Candidate for County Clerk.

Thomas Hughes, Republican candidate for County Clerk came to Jacksonville with his parents when a boy 12 years of age. He attended the public schools and also Brown's business college. His brother John H. Hughes was foreman at the J. S. F. shops and he went with him and learned the trade of blacksmith, working at the shops for nearly 17 years. He was always popular with the employees and every one who has ever worked at the C. P. and St. L. shops, has a good word for "Tommy" as he was familiarly called. He was secretary of the Mutual Benefit Society, from the time of its organization until he left the shops and a Charter Member of the International Brotherhood of Blacksmith Helpers.

Mr. Hughes resigned his position to become a deputy in the county clerk's office under Mr. James S. Merrill and made a good record for efficiency and faithfulness.

He is a member of Harmony lodge No. 3, A. F. and A. M., and was for several years Recording Secretary of Illinois Lodge No. 4 I. O. O. F. and also Noble Grand of the Degree staff, and it is said has given the work to more members than any one in this part of the state. He is also a member of the Central Christian church of this city.

Mr. Hughes is the type of man that the people want for office and is making as strenuous a campaign as his circumstances will permit, for as shown above has always worked hard for a living. We sincerely hope all his friends will take up the fight for him and use their best endeavor in his election. The Journal earnestly commends him to the voters of this county. This is the first time he has ever run for a public office. (Political Adv.)

HICKMAN-FOSS WEDDING.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 10.—A notable wedding today was that of Miss Esther Foss, daughter of former Governor Eugene N. Foss and Mrs. Foss, and Albert Hickman of Canada. The ceremony took place in the early afternoon at the Foss summer residence in Cohasset. Owing to the fact that the bridegroom is a British subject, and his country at war, the wedding was small and informal. Miss Helen Foss, the twin sister of the bride, was the maid of honor and only attendant.

THE BIRTH RECORD.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Kumle, 402 E. North street, Saturday morning, an 11 pound daughter.

POISON OF NICOTINE.

It Affects the Coronary Arteries and Produces Tobacco Heart.

"Tobacco heart" is a condition well known to physicians. It is really a phase of arteriosclerosis, due to excessive smoking, and is generally characterized by angina pectoris, a severe pain in the chest. The New York Medical Record, commenting on some statistics published in Germany by Dr. J. Pawinski, says the important conclusion to be drawn from them is "that tobacco has a certain, possibly a specific, affinity for the coronary arteries." These are the arteries of the heart itself, those that supply its muscles with blood.

That nicotine is a powerful poison has long been known, but there has been a wide divergence of opinion as to whether tobacco smoke contains nicotine or not. The investigations of Zulinski and Zebrowski prove that it does. The quantity of nicotine absorbed by the body from tobacco smoke is probably small, and if smoking be indulged in with moderation it will not injure healthy adults, but when carried beyond the limits of moderation or when indulged in by young people it is certain to do harm to the heart.

Its effect is to cause a considerable thickening of the inner membrane of the coronary arteries, a pronounced degeneration of their middle coat, which is composed of muscles, and marked changes in the muscles that contract and expand the heart, thus bringing about disturbances of its rhythmical beating.

EGGS AND THE HEN.

Life Work Nature Has All Laid Out For the Young Chick.

"There is water a plenty in a fresh laid egg, but no more air than there is in a hammer," said a dealer in eggs. "So long as you can keep air out of the egg it will remain sweet and fresh, but no one has ever succeeded in keeping it out by fair means more than six days. The oxygen is bound to find its way through an eggshell's pores, and the only way to save that egg then is to eat it. It sounds funny, but the moment you give an egg fresh air that moment you ruin its health."

"A good, healthy hen—not speaking of any particular star breed, but just hen—does not fulfill her destiny until she has accomplished 900 eggs—fifty dozen. That's what nature has fitted up the hen to do in the way of just unexcited and unstimulated egg production, and she gives the hen eight years to do it in."

"The hen divides the fifty dozen stint up among those eight years. Some years she may not turn out more than a couple of dozen, but when the eight years are up she will have managed her annual output so that the total has come out all right. Then the hen has ended her career as an egg producer, and too often, if she is in the hands of a thrifty owner, begins another career, short and desultory—this time as the summer boarder spring chicken."—Pittsburgh Press.

Weight After Meals.

There is, or used to be, an idea that one weighs less after a meal than before, but that is nonsense. There is always a definite increase of weight after a meal, and with most people it is enormous. After an average dinner washed down with the average amount of liquid three-quarters of a pint—the average man will invariably find that he weighs two pounds more than he did before the meal. There seems to be no reason why a really determined diner should not double that increase. A half pint tumbler of water or a breakfast cupful of tea weighs ten ounces, so that probably over half of the two pounds increase of weight after dinner is accounted for by the liquid part of the meal.—Manchester Guardian.

The Speed Limit.

Motorists going through a small town up in northern Indiana bear witness to the fact that sarcasm reaches a high stage of development there. Going into the town one is met by a sign reading "Speed Limit 110 Miles an Hour." "Mighty decent people in this town," thinks the motorist. But before he has gone far he realizes the sarcasm fully. The streets are so rough and the road through there to Chicago has so many turns in it that it would be impossible to go faster than ten miles an hour without running into some one's front yard.—Indianapolis News.

Three Hard Words.

There are three short and simple words, the hardest to pronounce in any language (and I suspect they were no easier before the confusion of tongues, but which no man or nation that cannot utter can claim to have arrived at manhood. These words are, "I was wrong"—Lowell.

UGLY DRIVER ANTS

All Living Creatures Fly Before These African Terrors.

THEY BUILD LIVING BRIDGES.

When an Army of These Formidable and Ferocious Insects Want to Cross a River a Suspension Tube of Their Own Bodies Provides the Way.

Why should driver ants cross rivers? The ants of our own woods have no such desire; they are busy little people, too much engaged in the practical task of finding and storing food to have any vagaries of this sort. They are contented and harmless if not disturbed or annoyed. An angry ant is to be avoided, and an angry swarm can make its displeasure felt in a very unpleasant way, as every one knows who has carelessly broken into a nest. But if left alone they are peaceful little workmen, absorbed in their own affairs.

The great driver or Bashikoney ant, however, has nothing peaceable in its composition. He is nothing if not aggressive and spiteful; neither is he contented. In the great forests of Africa these insects multiply to an alarming extent. They swarm in thousands, perhaps millions, and, formidable at any time, during the season of migration they are a terror to the whole district in which they live.

Myriads of these insects are seized with a restless desire for change. Obeying some mysterious instinct or following the commands of their queen, they set out upon their travels, and woe betide the man or beast that crosses their path! In a moment the hapless creature is covered with ants, and in an incredibly short space of time nothing is left but bare bones.

The driver ant is so called because it drives away all living creatures. When this most terrible host is on the march men and animals, great and small, take flight. Lions and tigers may be seen rushing along side by side with the timid gazelle. All are too much frightened to dream of attacking or avoiding each other. For once in their lives they are united in their terror of the common enemy. Size and strength are of no avail, and a rhinoceros or an elephant is as much terrified and is in as much danger as a rabbit.

When the vast army of ants arrive on the bank of a river a halt is called. They have no idea of turning back, but to cross that river they must have a bridge, and the making of this bridge takes time, and probably the engineers of the army have to hustle up to the front.

The making of an ant bridge is one of the most wonderful things in the world. The ants swarm on a tree, choosing one which overhangs the river. Upon the bough which reaches farthest over the stream they mass themselves and begin to form a thick rope of their own bodies. This they do by means of holding on firmly with their hind legs, while with the front pair of legs they grasp the bodies of other ants. Constantly fresh ants range themselves in front, and so the rope grows and grows until at last it touches the water.

By and by the floating chain is carried by the current toward the other side where probably grass and great reeds spring out of the water. The foremost ants seize upon the first object they touch, and from one slender foothold to another they climb until at last they reach land. The nearest tree is quickly climbed, the foremost pairs of legs doing all the work, and very soon the living rope is swinging high above the river. The bridge is made, and quickly the army crosses the stream.

Du Chailu, in his African travels, had an opportunity of observing one of these bridges, and he declares that it is made with a hollow center, the living bodies of the ants forming the walls of a tunnel, through which the main body of ants travel safely over the water. When the last ant has crossed and the bridge is no longer needed, the ants in the rear release their hold and the rope or tunnel drops into the river. The ants do not like water, but they are soon released from this position, for the vanguard are dispersing as fast as they can, and the self-sacrificing ants who began the great chain are quickly upon dry land.

It is all very strange and very wonderful. Why do they travel at all? By what direction and to what laws do they act, and how do they learn to make bridges? Our naturalists have learned much of their ways and their doings, but these questions they cannot answer; they are part of the mystery of life and nature of which the wisest knows little.—J. Cutler in London Family Herald.

Snobley—Aw—aw—it must be very unpleasant for you Americans to be governed by people—aw—whom you wouldn't ask to dinner. American Belle—Well, not more so, perhaps, than for you in England to be governed by people who wouldn't ask you to dinner.—Christian Register.

Preferring His Suit.

Cynthia—Oh, Tom, think of coming to ask papa's consent in such shabby clothes! Tom—That's right; I had one suit ruined.—Judge.

The surest way not to fail is to determine to succeed.—Sheridan.

CUBA'S DAY TO CELEBRATE.

Havana, Cuba., Oct. 10.—This being the forty-sixth anniversary of the beginning of the ten-year war for independence, the day was observed as a national holiday. The public offices in Havana were closed, as were nearly all of the places of business. The public and other buildings were decorated with Cuban flags. The celebration was marked by a large amount of enthusiasm.

Sweet Clover Improves Poor Land

Sweet clover, poorly inoculated. Total growth 2.8 tons per acre. Many plants actually died, never grew more than eight or ten inches. Not more than one half or two thirds of the plants were inoculated.

Sweet clover well inoculated. Total growth 4.4 tons per acre. All plants were inoculated.

Sweet clover will grow on almost any kind of soil that is not acid and that is fairly well drained provided the proper bacteria are present. A soil never becomes so poor that sweet clover will not grow provided limestone and the bacteria are present. Thousands of acres of abandoned eroded land could be improved better by sweet clover than by any other crop. The above illustrations show however that inoculation pays. This may be accomplished either by the soil transfer method or the glue solution method.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

Marie Tempest has opened her American tour in Toronto.

Winthrop Ames is to produce a play called "Evidence."

Olga Nethersole has volunteered in London as a Red Cross nurse.

Charlotte Ives has left the cast of "The High Cost of Loving."

Maude Adams intends to go as far as the Pacific coast in "The Legend of Leonora."

Jessie Busley, with a company of eight, is using a sketch called "The Rainbow Cocktail."

Eva Tanguay has a musical comedy from Vienna bearing the spiky title of "Miss Tabasco."

A town in South Dakota is to raise $50,000 for the erection and maintenance of a municipal theater.

The Liebler company is planning to revive "General John Regan," with Tim Murphy in the leading role.

Billie Burke is to appear in a sketch adapted by Paul Potter from Dickens in conjunction with "Jerry."

Elsie Ferguson is to appear in a drama called "The Yellow Ticket."

In private life she is Mrs. Jack Barrymore.

Ethel Barrymore will appear early in December in "The Shadow," a new play by Michael Morton and Darle Nicodemus.

"Young Wisdom," by Rachel Crothers, has been produced in London, with Madge Titheredge and Marguerite Maude in the leading roles.

Tom McNaughton, the English comedian, has been engaged by Lew Fields for one of the principal roles in the forthcoming production of "Suez."

E. S. Willard, noted English actor, is said to be considering another American tour in a repertoire of his successes, including "The Silver King."

Announcement is made by the Henry B. Harris estate that Rose Stahl is soon to be presented in a new play, the title of which has not yet been selected.

Katherine Grey claims to have played more than three hundred roles since she first appeared in New York in "Shore Acres," and to have been leading lady to more male stars than any two American actresses now before the public.

A WARTIME BLUFF

It Was Worked by Stonewall Jackson, and It Won.

HIS MOST IMPORTANT ORDER

It Was Given by the Cool Headed Confederate Commander to a Confused Federal Soldier, and It Was Promptly Obeyed—A Lucky Escape.

Perhaps the most important order that Stonewall Jackson ever issued—certainly the most vital to himself—is not in the official war records. The order was given in person by Jackson to a northern artillery officer as he stood in full uniform ready for battle beside his gun, and, stranger of all, was at once executed by him, with the result that the battle was lost by the Federal arms.

Jackson's action on this occasion furnishes a striking illustration of the value of a cool head and presence of mind in an emergency—on an important occasion when the entire unexpected happens—at a time when wavering or indecision would result in disaster. That he was able instantly to grasp the situation and daringly master it is a tribute to his quickness of judgment and his courage.

It was on a spring morning in 1862 just before the battle of Port Republic. Jackson in advance of his troops, with only a single escort, galloped across the bridge over the Shenandoah river into the town, which stood on the east bank. Learning that the army of General Shields was still a good many miles away and confident that his own troops would be in possession long before the enemy, he rode to a residence at the farther end of the village, where he spent nearly an hour.

But meantime the energetic Shields—whom Jackson declared to be his most formidable opponent—had thrust forward a small, swift column to occupy Port Republic, seize the bridge and halt Jackson's advance. So rapidly did it move that it gained both objects without firing a shot. More than that, Jackson was a prisoner—if any one had known it!

Jackson, in utter ignorance of the disastrous change, mounted his horse and ambled down the main street to the bridge. What was his astonishment to see groups of soldiers—in blue!—busily moving to and fro about the bridgehead and throwing up intrenchments and fortifications. Planted on a little knoll that commanded the bridge and its approaches was a formidable field gun.

Fortunately for Jackson, the recent campaigns up and down the valley had faded both blue and gray uniforms into a nondescript drab. As Jackson sat on his horse and watched the busy scene he formed his plan swiftly. He could not go back. He must cross that bridge. That was his only chance. It was the frowning field gun that he feared. He must put it out of commission long enough to get beyond its range. Throwing up his hand to attract attention, he shouted to the officer in command of the gun:

"What are you doing with that gun up there? I didn't order it there, and I don't want it there!" There were authority and petulance in his voice as he added, "Lumber up and run it over on that knob over there!"

The officer at the gun, thinking that he had to deal with some superior officer recently arrived, hastened to obey without question, explaining in self defense that he had understood his orders otherwise.

Sitting on Little Sorrel while the Federal troops worked busily about him, Jackson calmly waited until the gun was lumbered off to its new position. Then he rode quietly across the bridge and up the other bank until he was well out of musket range. Then he turned, waved his hand to the astonished Federals, and, putting spurs to his horse, galloped away from the rain of bullets that pattered harmlessly in the rear.

Had he been captured the Confederate victory at Port Republic which he won a few hours later would not have happened. The able and energetic Shields would have defeated his troops, stunned by his loss—YOUTH'S Companion.

Palace and Hovel.

Probably in Constantinople, which has been described as the "city of hoves," there is a greater contrast between the public and private buildings than in any other city in the world. The streets are narrow, tortuous and dirty, and even the better class of private houses are mean in comparison with those of a similar class in other countries. On the other hand, the mosques and palaces are magnificent in size, design and materials of construction, most of them being of marble, white or gray. The seraglio is one of the finest buildings in Europe.

Often Happens So. "I wonder," says old Pop Crabbe, "why it is that when you've stood around in a store for twenty minutes and finally given your order half a dozen clerks immediately rush up and ask if you've been waited on?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Fixing the Date. "Say, old man, lend me a silver till pay day, will you?" "Which? Your pay day or the day you'll pay me?"—Boston Transcript.

Failure is very often the result of waiting for other people to do things first.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES.

Professor Stella L. Cole, of the Modern Language Department, will deliver a lecture on "The Present Crisis in Europe" at Academy Hall, Tuesday evening, October 20th, at 7:30 o'clock. Professor Cole has spent several years abroad in travel and study. She has made a special study of German life and institutions. She was in Paris at the time of the mobilization during the summer. Admission to the lecture will be free and all friends are invited. The Gamma Delta Literary Society held a meeting in the library at Academy Hall Friday evening.

President (Rammell)camp was in Chicago on Thursday. He will attend a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the State Historical Library in Springfield on Tuesday.

The finishing touches are now being put on the new College tennis court south of Jones. If weather permits, the court can be used for games within a short time.

In the faculty tennis tournament all the preliminary rounds have been played. The players in the final match will be Professor Ames and Tanner. The match will probably be played as soon as the condition of the court permits.

Mrs. W. W. Gehmann, the State Secretary of the College Y. M. C. A. was on the campus on Tuesday. He conferred with the members of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet regarding the work of the year.

Both the Glee Club and the Dramatic Club have held "try outs." The prospects in both organizations seem to be bright.

Several additional students have registered in the College department since the opening of the College. The registration in the Conservatory is also increasing.

Professor Isabel S. Smith, of the Department of Biology, gave a very interesting talk on "Trees" before the Forty-ninth Club on Thursday afternoon. The members of the club met at the home of Miss Georgia M. Fairbanks on Grove street and during the "talk" 25 or 27 varieties of trees were found in the neighborhood of Miss Fairbanks' home.

The talk was of special interest as the members of the club will study "Trees" this year.

TAFT TO PRESIDE OVER LAWYERS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—Former President William Howard Taft will preside over the annual meeting of the American Bar Association, which is to hold its sessions in this city from Oct. 20 to 22. Mr. Taft was elected president of the association at the meeting held in Montreal last year. The coming meeting will have President Woodrow Wilson, Senator Elihu Root and other public men of national prominence as speakers. The meeting of the bar association will be preceded by the annual conference of uniform State laws.

SON OF FORMER PRESIDENT SOON TO WED

Marriage of Robert Taft and Miss Martha Bowers Will be Solemnized in Washington.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Martha Bowers, daughter of the late Solicitor General, Lloyd W. Bowers, and Robert A. Taft, son of former President and Mrs. William Howard Taft.

The wedding will take place at noon next Saturday in St. John's Church, and will be followed by a small reception and breakfast at the home of Mrs. Bowers in Rhode Island Avenue.

Miss Helen Taft will be the maid of honor for Miss Bowers, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Louise Hellen and Miss Frances Noyes of this city, Miss Marjory Edgar of Minneapolis, and Miss Julia Thompson of Chicago.

Mr. Taft will have George Harrison of this city as best man, and the ushers will be Charles Taft, Stephen Philbin of Houston, Texas; Stanhope Bayne Jones of Baltimore; John Herron of Pittsburg, Carl Logan of Akron, Ohio; Walter Logan of New York, Adrian Van Sinderen of New York, and Harry Bingham of New York, all classmates of Mr. Taft at Yale.

HOG MARKET 5 TO 10c HIGHER.

Chicago, October 9.—Receipts, 12,000. 1,700 over from yesterday. Top, $8.35. A good clearance made. Not much change in provisions, 6-000 estimated for Saturday.

The market had a little better tone today and hogs cleared 5 to 10c higher. Top was $8.35 and bulk of the light shipping sold from $8.10 to $8.25; medium and heavy shipping $7.75 to $8.15. The good mixed hogs sold from $7.75 to $8.00; light mixed packing $7.40 to $7.70; heavy packing $7.25 to $7.50; rough and throwout packers $6.75 to $7.10. Pigs were about 25c higher, selling from $7.25 to $7.75.

We do not look for much change in values for Monday, and would not advise following any advance that might occur in case of night receipts. Clay, Robinson & Company.

DIFFER AS TO DATES.

Mention was made yesterday of the anniversary of the Chicago fire and of a local talent play which was given on the same date in Jacksonville. Capt. J. M. Swales begs leave to disagree with the local historian who gave the first story, and insists that the play was not given until several years later. He says that he distinctly remembers that this production was staged in 1876 and that it is fixed in his memory because it was given under the auspices of his old Company K of the Fifth Illinois.

Olga Petrova will begin her tour this season under the management of the Scherberts at Schenectady on Oct. 17, presenting "Panthea."

SENATOR OWENS WILL TALK FOR ROBINS HERE

Address to Be Made at Court House Tuesday Afternoon—Senator and Party of Well Known Democrats Making Tour Under Auspices of Popular Government League.

Senator Robert L. Owen, of Oklahoma, one of the leading Democrats of the country and ranked as a progressive Democrat in the United States senate, will deliver an address at Jacksonville at 1 p. m. Tuesday, October 13th, at the court house, in behalf of Raymond Robins for United States senator. Senator Owen will arrive in Jacksonville on a special train coming from White Hall, which will carry a party of fifteen Democrats. H. J. Rodgers will act as chairman of the court house meeting.

The three days' stumping tour by Senator Owen is under the auspices of the National Popular Government League of Washington. This organization, after taking a nation-wide referendum of its members, passed a resolution denouncing the candidacies of Sullivan and Sherman, who were branded as the servants of special privilege and as enemies of good government. The resolutions call upon the honest citizens of all parties to support Robins who is commended as an able champion of popular government, and a man whose character and capacity should commend him to the citizens of Illinois.

Senator Owen, although a leading Democrat, did not hesitate to urge the league to take this step, and followed it by an open letter to Mr. Robins in which he stated his reasons for urging Illinois Democrats to repudiate the nominee of their party.

Accompanying Senator Owen, and assisting him in his speech making on the three day tour, will be Ho. J. Judson King, executive secretary of the National Popular Government League; William Ormond Thompson of Chicago, former law partner of the late Governor John P. Altgeld and Clarence D. Barrow, and now arbitrator for the garment workers in the Hart, Schaffner & Marx factories; Wiley Wright Mills, a Chicago lawyer who served on the Board of Education under Governor Dunne when he was mayor of Chicago, and helped organize the first Wilson-Dunne Club in Chicago; Andrew P. Canning, a Chicago capitalist who has taken an active part in Democratic politics; Rev. Hiram Vrooman of Chicago, brother of Carl Schurz Vrooman, and campaign manager for the latter when he ran for the senatorship; Willis J. Spaulding of Springfield, City Commissioner, and one of the Progressive Democratic leaders of Illinois; David Rosenheim of Chicago, who was chairman of the Dunne Committee of One Hundred, and is now president of the Robins Democratic League of Cook County; and Walter Niebuhr of Lincoln, who was chief organizer of the Wilson-Bryan League last spring, and is now directing the downstate Democratic campaign for Robins.

The Tragedy of Being Twenty-eight

The Way One Proposal Was Developed.

By STUART B. STONE.

Colonel John Andrew Findlay was a swarthy young dog of sixty, and Mr. Thomas, his son, was as old as twenty-eight.

The colonel had proposed just eight times to Miss Edwina Lincoln, his delightful little scamp of a daughter, but she had always refused him. The colonel, though fifty-five at the time, had nothing to his credit in the way of discovery, invention or production; but, then, the colonel did not stop for a little thing like that.

"I know I'm old," explained Colonel John Andrew, and Miss Edwina interrupted: "You're not—you're not old!" she cried in heated denial, for they were comrades of years and had enjoyed many great times and jolly romps together.

"Then," said the colonel, optimistic as Old King Cole, "you will have me, Edwina, when you are a couple of years older?" Edwina laughed and half cried, informed the colonel that he was a dear old classmate of Methuselah and ended up by kissing him, while he patted the newly bearded lady hair. After that Edwina sought out Master Thomas, pottering about his maze of a mathematical theory.

"How old are you, Tom?" she asked, though she knew like A B C. "Twenty-three," answered Tom soberly as he went on figuring. "Twenty-three," he repeated, with a solemn look at Edwina, perched upon a table of matted formulae. "Getting older every day, Edwina, and nothing to show for the years." He gloomed at her like Jupiter displeased, and she went out and dimmed her big brown eyes with tears.

The colonel continued to entertain the fondest, rose tinted hopes, which he carefully announced as often as possible. Miss Edwina persisted in becoming more entrancingly lovely day by day. Tom went on working over stupid figures. And when Edwina, radiant and beaming with the glory of another year cast behind with the despoised giddings of childhood, came to announce her seventeenth birthday the colonel proposed again. He couldn't help it—dear soul. Edwina tweaked his nose, puffed him an ethereal little kiss and scampered from the room, laughing.

"By the eternal!" murmured Colonel John Andrew when she left him with his hands still in the attitude of dramatic pleading. "Now, wouldn't she and I make a pair of high steppers in the beauty show on the avenue of evenings?" Then he tiptoed over to an old trunk and looked for a long while at the picture of a kindly, faded lady in a locket.

Edwina had gone to the library, where she foiled upon a desk covered with gay equations in algebra. "Tom," she asked softly, "did you know I was seventeen?" Tom nodded. "Yes, I know, Edwina. I'm keeping track of these things."

"Tom"—she persisted, and he ceased his calculations and turned his dark, solemn eyes on her. "Tom," she asked, "are you ever-do you expect ever to get married?" Tom blushed and turned away to his papers. "I am twenty-four, Edwina," he declared in slightly trembling tones, "and I have achieved nothing. How could I think of—"

He stopped at that, and Edwina slipped up to her pinkish boudoir and went softly for perhaps five minutes. When Edwina returned into charming eighteen and after the colonel's third fervent proposal the light in her brown eyes, the gold brown glint of her hair and the note of her clear young voice became a topic here and there, and woosers could no longer be held back from the threshold.

The colonel eyed them balefully; then slapped them on their young backs and adjured the best man to win Master Tom, with the tragedy of twenty-five, six and seven bowing his hand some curly head, worked with his noxious mathematics and worried over the respective merits of Edwina's army of sighing Romeo chaps. And Edwina coquetted, merrily as possible, with the whole idolatrous band, refusing Colonel John Andrew as often as twenty times a month and extending delicious sympathy to Master Tom in his struggle with Old Time, the scythe man.

Of course the time had come when Edwina became all of twenty-one and unhampered mistress of a really respectable fortune. The event was signified by a masterful proposal on the part of the colonel and by a little spit-spat of an interview between Edwina and Tom in the dull library. Master Tom was twenty-eight—twenty-eight, mind you, he had declared, with a sigh, and Edwina, alighting the door, remarked that he acted as if he were a hundred and twenty-eight. And Tom, much puzzled, allowed a precious mathematical thought to evaporate while he sought out Colonel John Andrew.

"It is about Edwina's future," began Tom. "She is twenty-one now, and I am worried."

"Oh, don't worry!" exploded the colonel. "I never did in my life, and look at me." And the colonel noted in the mirror how kindly the scythe bearer really had been to him.

"But she will necessarily be marrying," continued Master Tom. "Of course," Colonel John Andrew acquiesced softly, while a mellow glow came into his good, hale eyes.

"There's young Shipley," suggested Tom. "Milk and water," snapped the colonel. "She's too good for a million like him."

"She's too good for any of them," said Tom, "but we must see that she gets the best. Now, there's Landis." "Wooden headed as any Indian cigar sign," objected the colonel. He objected to all the other fellow ones until Tom in perplexity demanded, "What then?"

"What then?" snapped Colonel John Andrew. "Why, before our little Edwina shall tie herself to any of these I'll go downstairs and propose myself. And the colonel went. Tom followed. "Is it because I am too old?" the colonel asked Edwina as soon as he saw her, assuming a tone of ineffable sorrow.

Edwina shook her pretty head. "I like people who are old—a little bit old," she declared.

"I know I have never accomplished anything," continued the colonel, "save to ride a prancing cob or to lead a cotillion as it should be led."

"I don't care—I don't care for that," exclaimed Edwina, with more vehemence than seemed necessary. "Tom is always talking about being old, but I like him better than if he had flown around Mars."

Tom started, blushing, and the colonel squinted at them both. "I'm—I'm"—stammered Tom, but Edwina impatiently waved him into silence.

"Oh, you're twenty-eight," she said in exasperation. "It's simply horrible! Just think, you'll be twenty-nine some day!"

Colonel John Andrew swallowed something, underwent another change of expression, sighed with final resignation and relief and smiled. "Then it is to be Shipley or Landis or young Gregg?" he asked.

"No, no, no," exclaimed Edwina, red and desperate, "nor any of the silly, immature flock!"

"Then, in the name of Cupid, who?" demanded Colonel John Andrew.

"Oh, I suppose it's to be no one," quavered Edwina, with a little look at Tom on the settee. Then she made for the door, all ready for tears once more.

"Tom," thundered Colonel John Andrew, "arise and ask that young lady to marry you." Edwina turned half expectantly.

"Great Caesar, father," cried Tom, "I'm twenty-eight!"

"See there," said Edwina, wheeling. "Wait, Edwina," called Tom, and the girl dallied at the foot of the stairs.

Tom stumbled blunderingly up to her. "You don't mind my age," he asked, "or the fact that I have done nothing worth while for the world?"

"Oh, sugar," said Edwina, in dead earnest. "Why, look at the colonel, Tom!"

The colonel winced, but continued his beaming smile, and Tom, regarding the flustered, happy girl, reached over and kissed Edwina on her trembling red lips, and then the colonel came and kissed them both.

It was a queer little proposal and rather a difficult matter to figure out whether the colonel or Tom or Edwina did the asking, maybe, but it held. And anyway it was a happy ending. So possibly it was the best that could have been devised.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Consume 2—The consumptive should occupy a room to himself. The room should be sunny and well ventilated. Do not be afraid of fresh air; it will only do you good. Night air will not hurt you.

Do not reinfect yourself by breathing your own sputum after it has been allowed to become dry. Be cleanly for your own sake if not for your neighbor's.

If you have the least cause to suspect that you have tuberculosis consult the best physician you can find. Do not be deceived by advertising quacks, but consult a reputable physician. Do not jump from one physician to another, but select one in whom you have confidence and stay with him.

Be guided by your physician as to the amount of exercise or work you shall undertake. Do just what he tells you, no more, no less.

Do not drink any alcohol except as directed by your physician. He knows your needs and may be saving stimulation for a critical moment.

Live in the fresh air as much as possible. There is no cure for consumption that can be put into a bottle. The real cure is fresh air, pure food and rest.

Remember that nearly every case of consumption can be cured if taken early.

GUARDING AN ARMY

Order of Advance of a Division on the March.

TACTICS IN TIME OF BATTLE.

Careful and Elaborate Disposition of the Detached Troops to Secure the Main Body Against Surprise—The Flanks and the Rear Guard.

"The civilian in reading stories of battles and accounts of marches and attacks by an army in times of war finds many expressions that he does not clearly understand—such, for instance, as references to independent cavalry, the advance guard, advance cavalry, point and flank patrols, the support, the reserve, the main body, flank guard and rear guards—and it is reasonable to believe that there is confusion in many minds as to significance and relation of these things," said an army officer.

"Let us assume that a division is on the march, and, by the way, a division is the basis in the United States organization for the mobile army and is a unit made up of all necessary arms and services complete for independent action incident to ordinary operations."

"One or two marches ahead goes the independent cavalry, which seeks to check the enemy's cavalry and send back information as to the enemy's movements and his intentions. This cavalry is so far to the front that it could not prevent the enemy slipping in between it and the following army and could not prevent the enemy's patrol from observing the movement of the troops. Thus other precautions are taken, and one or two marches behind the independent cavalry marches the advance guard."

"First in the advance guard is the advance cavalry, commonly one squadron, which sends ahead a point or leading patrol and sends on both sides to march across country or on roads paralleling the line of march small bodies called flank patrols. All this is to clear the country of the enemy or give timely notice of his approach or his presence. Four or five miles in the rear of the leading patrol rides the advance party of the advance cavalry."

"In the rear of the advance cavalry marches the support, commonly formed of one regiment of infantry and a mounted detachment of engineers. Five hundred yards ahead of the support marches its advance party, composed of one company, and from 300 to 500 yards ahead of the advance party is its 'point' patrol, and other patrols may be sent out on the flanks or to places on the line of march where they can get good views of the country."

"About 1,000 yards behind the support marches the reserve in the following order in the United States army: One battalion of infantry, one battalion of artillery, one regiment of infantry, one company of engineers less the detachment with the support, an ambulance company and perhaps a detachment of signal troops. One or two miles behind the reserve marches the main body. If danger is suspected on either flank, flank guards are sent out, and they may be mere patrols or detachments of all arms, according to the requirements of the situation. Behind the main body marches the rear guard. Its component parts are generally as far behind the main body as those of the advance guard are in front of it, though on a tight march it draws closer to the main body."

"This careful and elaborate disposition of troops on the march is to secure the division against surprise, to prevent small parties of the enemy delaying the march and, if the enemy is encountered in force, to hold him long enough for the main body to prepare for action and take up the best position offered by the country."

"The arrangement and position of the various forces as given above," concluded the military man, "are, as I said at the beginning, the usual disposition of advance troops of a division on the march, and for larger commands than a division you want to increase the strength of the independent cavalry, advance cavalry and patrols, support and reserve, and also increase the distances. In this you will see the reason for all the relatively small but frequent and sharp collisions during the early stages of a big battle."—Washington Star.

The Sheet Anchor.—"That was my sheet anchor"—i. e., my best hope, my last refuge—the sheet anchor of a ship, which in stress of weather is the sailors' chief dependence. The word sheet is a corruption of the word shote (thrown out), meaning the anchor "thrown out" in foul weather. The Greeks and Romans said, "My sacred anchor," referring to the sheet anchor, which was always dedicated to some god.

Changed Their Minds.—"I suppose your education was a matter of great care to your parents." "Yes," replied Miss Cynne. "I recall that they had great difficulty teaching me to play the piano. And then they had still more persuading me not to."—Washington Star.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

FOREIGN BUYING BOOSTS PRICES

Uneasiness Over Reports That War May Include Portugal and Turkey Brings Rise

CORN UNCHANGED, OATS DROP

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—Foreign buying, ascribed to uneasiness over reports that hostilities promised at any moment to include Portugal and Turkey, sent wheat prices today up grade. The close was firm at 4c net advance. Corn finished at the same at last night to 4c down, oats 4c off and provisions with 2 1/2c net gain.

December delivery of wheat seemed to be especially in demand by export houses both here and at Duluth besides. St. Louis had inquiries from European government officials asking terms on a round amount to be shipped by way of the Gulf. In addition to the war departments, big falling off in Canadian receipts was said to be making buyers in the English trade anxious. Winnipeg arrivals dropped to 470 cars as against 1,219 cars on the corresponding date a year ago. The stock at Minneapolis, too, was shown to be much reduced, the total standings 2,200,000 bushels under last year's figures.

Today's advance in wheat prices carried the market to the highest level of the week. The only important reaction which took place was shortly after the opening and proved brief. The course of the bulge came in the last fifteen minutes of the session.

Despite soaking rains and the strength of wheat, corn showed a decided tendency to sag. Eastern cash demand was slow and there were predictions of larger receipts next week.

Oats were also depressed by the failure of the seaboard to maintain the urgent shipping call that of late has been the rule. Hedging sales from the northwest acted as a further weight on the market.

Higher prices for hogs led shorts to indulge in free buying of lard, notably the October and November options. Ribs and pork joined in the ensuing upturn.

"KING COTTON" WEEK

COMMENCING
MONDAY, OCTOBER 12th
ENDING SATURDAY, OCT. 17th,

Miss Genevieve Clark, daughter of Champ Clark, and several other nationally known women have inaugurated a movement to relieve the stagnation in the cotton market, which is tying up millions of dollars and forcing the southern planter and the cotton industry generally into the first stages of bankruptcy. The countries involved in the European war are the heaviest consumer of our raw cotton and it is to this fact the present crisis in our cotton industry is due.

The plan of Miss Clark and her associates is to invite the great retail stores of the country to push the sale of cotton goods by holding special bargain sales, telling the people the exact conditions and waiting their co-operation in relieving the situation. This movement is really a part of the "Buy a Bale of Cotton" movement that is approved by President Wilson and members of his cabinet and business men,

We are glad to co-operate in this movement and establish Monday next as the first "Cotton Week." Nearly all the cotton goods in the store, piece goods and garments for man; woman and child have been repriced for this week, and it is our hope that the men and women of Jacksonville and surrounding country will help in this movement by buying this week some articles made of cotton—for a selfish reason, if for no other, it will be to your advantage to do so, for prices generally will be much below normal.

Severe Blood Troubles Vanish

With Magic Effect, Great Remedy Makes Disease Disappear.

At almost any drug store you may obtain S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, and you then have the veritable wizard that makes all blood troubles vanish. Your stomach takes kindly to S. S. S., it pushes into your blood, is a purifying wave, makes the liver, kidneys, bladder and skin work in harmony; stops accumulations that have caused rheumatism, catarrh, swollen glands, sore throat and skin eruptions.

Just as food makes blood, so does S. S. S. follow the process of digestion to stimulate natural secretions to protect us against the ravages of disease germs. We are well aware of the fact that these germs are apt to be latent within us to break forth in violent eruptions of the skin whenever the system is in a low state of resistance. And it is to both prevent these eruptions or to get rid of them that Nature gave us such an ally as S. S. S. It is purely vegetable, contains no mercury, and yet it overcomes those serious troubles for which mercury has been employed for ages. In every community are people who know this to be true. They owe to S. S. S. their recovery. Get a bottle today. Refuse all substitutes. Read the folder around the bottle that tells of the wonderful work being done by the medical department in assisting users of S. S. S. For a special book on blood troubles address The Swift Specific Co., 51 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

Farmers and Feeders Notes

GOVERNMENT ADVISES USE OF COTTONSEED MEAL

Points Out That Lower Price Levels Affords Better Opportunities to Cattle Feeders.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—Because of the abundant supply of cottonseed meal that there is likely to be in this country, specialists in the Department believe that the farmer has a better opportunity to make money by feeding beef cattle than for some years past. The feeding value of cottonseed meal has been recognized by agricultural authorities for some time and large quantities of it are exported annually to Europe where the farmers, especially those in Denmark, are also aware of its usefulness. It now seems likely that the price of cottonseed meal will continue to be considerably lower than in recent years and the American farmer should therefore utilize it to advantage to make cheap gains.

Two causes combine to lower the price of cottonseed by-products. In the first place the cotton crop in the South this year is good, and in the next foreign markets have been seriously interfered with by the European war. It is estimated that this year 15,000,000 bales of cotton will be produced in the United States. This should yield 6,680,000 tons of seed. All of this of course, will not be crushed, but if last year's proportion hold good again, 2,000,000 tons of cottonseed meal will be available. Last year approximately 400,000 tons were sent abroad. Under present conditions it is not probable that anything like this quantity will be exported this year, and, as the cotton crop is larger than before, it is safe to assume that the quantity of cottonseed meal on the home market will be 500,000 tons more than last year. This situation has already resulted in a substantial drop in the price of cottonseed by-products. Cottonseed meal can now be bought in the South at prices ranging from $22 to $24 per ton instead of $27 to $31 demanded last year. An even greater decrease has taken place in the price of cottonseed hulls, which are now selling at from $4.50 to $5.50 a ton instead of $7 to $9 a ton.

At these prices cottonseed meal is approximately $15 per ton cheaper than linseed meal, and in addition its feeding value is a trifle higher. It seems obvious, therefore, that the cattle feeder all over the country should utilize cottonseed meal to a far greater extent than he has done in the past.

This meal is rich in protein and it is usually considered that its feeding value is at least twice that of corn. In other words one pound of cottonseed meal is equal to two pounds of corn for feeding cattle. A small portion of cottonseed meal has an even greater relative value where the ration would otherwise be composed entirely of feeds high in carbohydrates, such as corn, corn stover and timothy hay. This is extremely important to cattle feeders throughout the corn belt and other states where much corn is fed. In Indiana for example, it was found that the addition of one pound of cottonseed meal to a ration of corn and clover hay resulted in a saving of 1.37 pounds of corn and 1.41 pounds of clover hay. This means that if corn was worth 70 cents a bushel and clover hay $15 a ton, each ton of cottonseed meal fed the cattle saved the farmer $55.40 worth of other feed. With cottonseed meal worth at $24 a ton this is a net saving of $31.40—a saving well worth while.

NEW EXPERIMENT FIELDS FOR U. OF ILLINOIS

Citizens of Spring Valley, Bureau county, Illinois, have donated to the University, seventeen acres of land in close proximity to a local high school, to be used for experimental purposes. In making the recommendation that this tract of land be accepted, Dean Eugene Davenport, stated that the field meets the conditions needed by the University in the carrying on of its soil investigations in the state, that is, the University has need of further representative fields on this particular type of soil and in that climatic region.

A similar proposition to the above was made by Mr. Thomas McNamara, of Kewanee, Ill., who offered to the University a tract of 20 acres near Kewanee in Henry county. This offer has been accepted by the University.

A NEW SOIL ADVISORY COMMITTEE

For a number of years the Agronomy Department of the Agricultural College, had the benefit of the experience and advice of five members of a Soils Advisory Committee.

During the last two years the Committee has not been in existence, due to the fact that when the form of appropriating money to the University was changed no action was taken to provide for the continuance of the Committee. The University has felt that the help of this Committee was invaluable and too great to be lost.

Under the new arrangement just completed a new soil advisory committee has been appointed by the Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois and on nomination of the Illinois State Farmers' Institute.

The men who constitute the new committee are as follows: Ralph Allen, DeLavan, for five years; J. P. Mason, Elgin, for four years; C. V. Gregory, Chicago, for three years; F. I. Mann, Gilman, for two years; and A. N. Abbott, Morrison, for one year. The different length of terms is made so that one vacancy only may occur each year.

CHICAGO CATTLE MARKET THE PAST WEEK

Higher Prices Are Predicted and More General Activity.

Alexander, Ward and Conover in reviewing the Chicago live stock market for the past week had the following to say:

CATTLE—Receipts of cattle Monday 18,322, including about 5,000 westerns. Market uneven, but generally 10 to 15c higher on the bulk of the arrivals than the close of week. Tuesday's receipts 6,865; market slow but about steady.

Wednesday's receipts 15,014; market very uneven. Choice yearlings and choice medium-weight cattle in good demand at steady to strong prices. The good 1,350 to 1,450-lb. cattle were hard to dispose of at anything like satisfactory prices, and the bulk of that kind sold 10 to 13c lower than Monday.

Thursday's receipts 4,959. Demand indifferent; market dull and 15 to 25c lower than Monday.

Friday's receipts estimated at 2,000. Market steady.

Receipts for the week will show a slight decrease at Chicago. The market has been very uneven and unsatisfactory for the bulk of the arrivals. A little advance on Monday, but all that advance was wiped out on Wednesday and Thursday except on a few choice heavy-weight cattle and choice yearlings, which have been in good demand all week at strong prices. We look for receipts to continue very moderate of good cattle for some time to come, and we look for a better demand and a more satisfactory market. Believe more reasonable weather would help the meat trade.

BUTCHER STOCK—Choice cows and heifers are 15 to 25c higher for the week. Medium cows and heifers 10 to 25c higher. There has been an active market all week and a good clearance has been made.

Good to choice bulls are steady for the week. Good bologna bulls steady, light ones slow sale and a shade lower.

Calfes are closing about steady, with the close of last week. We look for a good active market the coming week and with moderate receipts should have a higher one.

STOCKERS AND FEEDERS—The supply of stockers and feeders has been lighter this week and the good to choice kinds have sold strong to a shade higher.

HOGS—Receipts of hogs for the week have increased but about 13,000 head compared with last, but nevertheless we have a big break in last week. Heavy hogs received the full benefit of the decline, as did light weights, the most desirable kind being the choice light butchers weighing from 210 to 240 lbs. The market broke of its own weight. Packers have just simply refused to take chances of cutting up hogs at the prevailing high prices, and are talking even further decline. It will require, however, a big increase in receipts to accomplish this.

We are apt to get increased receipts at this market next week from the fact that we are so far above all other western points and the hogs will naturally come this way.

AGREEMENT MADE FOR SOIL BETTERMENT

U. S. Department of Agriculture and University of Illinois Will Conduct Demonstration Work.

People of the state who have become more or less familiar with the provisions of the recently adopted Lever Bill will be interested to know that a co-operative agreement has been entered into between the University of Illinois and the United States department of agriculture whereby all of the demonstration work done by the Department will be in co-operation with the University of Illinois and under the management of the same organization as administrators the Lever Bill.

Pursuant to this plan of co-operation, Mr. W. F. Handschin has been appointed as State Leader in charge of the County Advisory Work, both under the Lever Bill and the co-operative relations with the Department. Mr. Handschin was a student of the universities of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Illinois. He conducted a large farm in the northern part of the state for some three years, was a teacher at the University of Minnesota, and since coming to the University of Illinois three years ago his work has been largely confined to the subject of farm organization and management.

The general plan under which the County Advisory Work under the Lever Bill will be conducted is as follows:

Such portion of the Lever Fund as will be used for County Advisory Work will be assigned, so far as available, when counties have met the following conditions:

First: Elected local organizations of responsible business men for the purpose of employing a county advisor and assisting him in his work.

Second: Subscribing, or otherwise guaranteeing, sufficient funds to insure the success of the enterprise.

Third: Employment of a county advisor who shall be approved by the University of Illinois. The whole purpose of the University will be to encourage to the utmost local interest, local initiative and local responsibility.

A MEDICINE OF MERIT.

A proprietary medicine, like everything else that comes before the public, has to prove its merits. The law of the survival of the fittest applies in this field as in others. The reason for the tremendous success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is because it has been fulfilling a real human need for forty years. To that today thousands of American women owe their health and happiness to the marvelous power of this famous medicine made from roots and herbs—nature's remedy for woman's ills.—A.C.V.

DR. CARSON

Chicago Specialist

In the treatment of Chronic Disease, will be at the Dunlap Hotel, Jacksonville, Illinois, Wednesday, Oct. 14th, 1914, one day only. (Returns every 28 days). Hours, 8 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Fourteenth Successful Year in Jacksonville. Consultation and Examination Free

I treat successfully the cases I undertake and accept no fee from those who are incurable. That is why I continue my visits year after year, while other specialists make only a few visits and cease to return.

IS THIS THE WAY YOU FEEL? Are you dizzy or nervous? Pain in the head? Tongue coated? Have you Catarrh—nose stopped up? Gas on the stomach? Hands and feet cold? Pain of hands moist? Have you a dull, dragging pain or ache of the body, back or limbs? Have you Rheumatism? Have you Piles? Piles—itching or bleeding? Have you kidney or bladder trouble, lame or weak back, pains in back or limbs? Have you any blood disease—scrofula, skin eruptions, pimples, bone pains, pale complexion and losing weight?

I invite you to call and investigate the Carson System of the treatment of Chronic Diseases, which I have perfected after fifteen years of experience and study, and you will be convinced that my modern, up to date methods of curing disease are what you need.

Never before has there been a treatment giving such universal satisfaction. Every sufferer is cordially invited to call and secure full details concerning this new treatment free of charge.

REMEMBER DATE OF VISIT. Come early as persons are always crowded. It has made life anew to thousands who had been pronounced beyond hope.

C. W. CARSON, M. D., 766 Oakwood Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

Experience makes perfect. Having treated hundreds of old chronic stomach troubles for the last fifteen years, I can relieve a great majority of these cases and restore them to health and strength again, especially in those cases who suffer from the effects of pain in the stomach and bowels, bloating, gas, spitting up of food, sour stomach, headache, dizziness, loss of appetite, drowsiness, and heavy, bad feeling in the head.

PILES—Every case guaranteed cured without detention from business or use of knife.

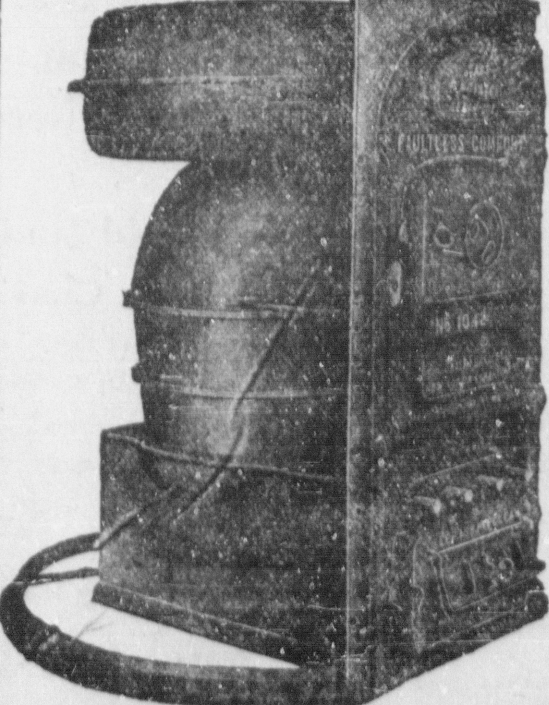

Private Diseases a Specialty!

NERVOUS DEBILITY—Are you nervous, despondent, weak, tired mornings, no ambition, poor memory, easily fatigued, excitable and irritable, eyes sunken, red and blurred, pimples on the face, dreams restless, haggard looking, weak back, deposit in urine, drains at stool, distrustful, want of confidence, lack of energy and strength

CIRCUIT COURT WILL BE IN SESSION THIS WEEK

Business of the May Term Will be Finished by Judge Jones as Speedily as Possible.

Judge Jones is to be in Jacksonville tomorrow morning to begin the work of the final days of the May term of the Morgan county Circuit Court. It is unusual for the business of a term to be so long drawn out but this has been inevitable in the present instance. The fact that the work of the May term will not be closed until nearly the date for the November term means an especially busy time for attorneys and for Circuit Clerk Pratt and his deputies.

The docket for the final court days has been fixed as follows:
Oct. 12th—W. T. Merriweather vs Earl Fox, appeal; Margaret Blundell vs H. K. Snyder, appeal; Fuel Co. trespass; William Newman vs G. W. Davis, et al., mandamus; Cook & Preston vs T. E. Laurie, assumpsit; people use of Commissioner of Road Drainage dist. No. 1 vs Wm. Nunes and J. E. Dailey, delict.

Tuesday, Oct. 13th—People vs Lloyd Hare and Luther Decker, burglary-larceny; people vs J. A. Fletcher, forgery, two cases.

Wednesday, Oct. 14th—Michael Morrissey vs Patrick and Annie Doolin, trespass; J. W. Wallace vs Irvin Coulson, appeal; City vs C. B. & Q. R. R., appeal; Richard Cox vs John W. Rynders, trespass; People vs W. H. Williamson, et al., quo warranto; Spencer Carpenter vs C. P. & S. L. R. R. Co., case.

Monday, Oct. 19th—Jacob Cohen et al. vs H. H. Deveraux, et al., injunction.

POST O. PLANS RALLY DAY.

Saturday, the 24th, is named for Membership Campaign.

Saturday, October 24, was named as T. P. A. rally day by the members of Post O. Travelers Protective Association, in regular session Saturday evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Committees have been appointed and preparations are already under way for a lively membership solicitation on a week from Saturday next.

Morgan county hard roads were discussed at this meeting and committees appointed to further the movement so much as may be possible. A special railroad committee was named to have supervision of local railroad regulation. This body will not duplicate the work of the standing T. P. A. railroad committee, which is concerned with other phases of the railroad question.

MISS FLORENCE IRLAM TO WED MR. LLOYD DARWENT

Marriage Will Take Place This Month—Bride-to-be Given Miscellaneous Shower at Home of Mrs. W. G. Russel.

A miscellaneous shower was given by Mrs. Allan Russel of Woodson, in honor of Miss Florence Irlam, who is to wed Mr. Lloyd Darwent this month. There were twenty five guests present. The decorations were of Halloween effect and the afternoon was spent in playing games, prizes being won by Misses Susan Russel and Cora Irlam. Enjoyable readings were given by Mrs. W. G. Russel.

A delightful luncheon was served consisting of three courses. At an appointed time a witch appeared presenting the bride-to-be with a number of beautiful and useful presents.

Miss Irlam is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Irlam and Mr. Darwent is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Darwent. Among the guests present were Mrs. M. L. Watt and Mrs. R. H. Blemling of Jacksonville.

MORTUARY

Mrs. C. A. Mowry of Galesburg passed away Saturday morning after a short illness following an operation, according to a telegram received by friends in the city. Mrs. Mowry was for some time a resident of Jacksonville, coming here from Bellefontaine, Ohio, and going to Galesburg a little over a year ago. She is survived by her husband and three children: Rose and Misses Marian and Louise Mowry.

The remains will be shipped to West Liberty, O. where funeral services will be held Tuesday.

FUNERALS

Dawson.

Funeral services for Archie Dawson, who was killed by the car near Nebo, last Wednesday night were held at 10:30 o'clock Saturday forenoon in the undertaking parlors of W. W. Gilliam, where there was assembled quite a number of friends of the family to listen to the words of Rev. M. I. Pontius, pastor of the Central Christian church who was in charge of the services. Singing was by a choir consisting of Miss Maria Kinney, Miss Adelaide McGarity, C. L. Mathis and W. W. Gilliam. The beautiful flowers were cared for by Mrs. Dana Miles and Mrs. Lizzie Williams.

The bearers were Ralph Jackson, Lionel Hira, Curtis Cruzan, Leonard Hare, William Boston and William Smith. Interment was in Diamond Grove cemetery.

JAMES W. BAKER DIES FROM FRACTURED SKULL

Man Who Was Injured Near Hillview Died at Our Savior's Hospital, Having Never Regained Consciousness — Coronor Wright Holds Inquest.

James W. Baker, who was brought to Our Savior's hospital from Hillview, died Friday at 10 p. m., after being a patient there four hours and a half, having never regained consciousness.

Coronor Wright empaneled the following jury: Arch Norris, foreman; John Pate, Frank Wiggins, William Young, L. B. Haynes and J. W. Priest, clerk. The verdict was "We the members of the jury find that the deceased came to his death by cerebral hemorrhage, as the result of a fracture of the skull, caused by a fall or blow on the head on the night of Thursday, Oct. 8, 1914, while in an intoxicated condition."

Dr. Norris testified as follows: "I was called to Our Savior's hospital at 6 p. m. Friday to see deceased. He was unconscious and breathing heavily and suffering from a cerebral compression and on account of swelling of side of face could not tell whether or not there was a fracture of the skull. An incision was made over the front of the injury and there was found a large accumulation of blood which was drained away as best as could be. The man clearly had a fracture of the skull, probably caused by a fall. He never regained consciousness."

Testimony of Chas. Witter. Charles Witter, village marshal of Hillview, testified as follows: "First met deceased Oct. 8. He was leaning on fence at Alton depot at Hillview. He was apparently drunk. I took him to the village jail and locked him up.  About 6 p. m. Friday I went to see him and found him unconscious, lying on the concrete floor on his face. He was groaning and evidently badly injured.  Dr. G. G. Garrison of Pearl was called and said the man was suffering from a dose of poison or a drug or as the result of a fall.  Deceased had been working around Hillview about four weeks in the employ of Albert McClay, as an apple sorter. He was about 40 years of age.

The body was taken to the undertaking parlors of J. H. O'Donnell where it will be held until relatives of the dead man can be located.

"THE BEAUTY SHOP" A GREAT ATTRACTION

Raymond Hitchcock and Company of Fifty Coming to the Grand Next Thursday—Manager Johnson Declares it a Great Offering.

In announcing the coming of Raymond Hitchcock in "The Beauty Shop" at the Grand next Thursday, Manager Johnson also states that this is one of the largest attractions which has been seen at the Grand for several years. The company includes 100, many of them in addition to the star being well known in the musical comedy world.

An immense amount of scenery is carried and a special force of thirty men will be required on the Grand stage to care for it. The production is of such size and so expensive that Manager Johnson states that he has secured it as a sort of test and on the patronage given this attraction will depend largely whether any others of equal size and quality can be booked.

The scale of prices will run from 50c to $2, just the same as will be charged for the same attraction in Springfield and other Illinois cities in which it is booked. Raymond Hitchcock is popular with Chicago theater-goers and is really one of the funniest and most capable comedians in the world of musical comedy.

ADD SOCIAL EVENTS

John McGimes and sister entertained a large number of friends Thursday evening, in honor of Miss Clara Frank who is to become the bride of Mr. James McGimes, Oct. 14. Music and games furnished amusement of the evening and refreshments were served.

The Loyal Woman's class of Central Christian Sunday school, taught by Mrs. G. H. Harney, will give a banquet for the young men of the church Thursday evening at 6:15 o'clock.

For Miss Gladys Gibbs, who next week is to become the bride of Mr. Scott Gordon, friends of the bride-to-be were entertained Saturday afternoon at a China rush by Miss Louise Leach, east of Winchester. Several clever contests were features of the afternoon at which prizes were won by Miss Irene McCullough and Mrs. Berry Heaton. At the cutting of the "cake of fate" the ring was found by Miss Nellie Gibbs, the thimble by Miss Sue Dickinson and the dime by Miss Nellie Coultas. An elegant three course dinner was enjoyed in the serving of which Miss Leach was assisted by Miss Lena Hayes. Miss Gibbs received a number of handsome gifts in China, which will always serve as a happy reminder of an afternoon pleasantly spent. The enjoyment of the occasion was enhanced by a musical program in which there participated Miss Nellie Coultas, Miss Louise Keemer and Mrs. Edward T. Leach.

A delightful afternoon tea was given by Mrs. T. J. Pitner and Miss Mary Upham at the beautiful home of Mrs. Pitner, Fairview, Saturday afternoon. The house was given an added attractiveness by the use of autumn flowers and foliage. It was the first party of the fall season and was largely attended. Refreshments were served during the hours. The assistant hostess were Mrs. E. C. Lambert, Mrs. Jordan, Mrs. Andrew Russell, Mrs. A. T. Capps, Mrs. Louise Ingalls, Mrs. P. C. Thompson, Mrs. F. J. Hehl, Mrs. R. C. Reynolds, Mrs. C. E. Soft Coal Is the King of Fuels

THERE IS NO FURTHER need of paying the high price asked for hard coal—from the fact that

"BUCK'S"
HOT BLASTS and VENTILATORS

Actually produce hard coal results with the cheapest kind of soft coal or slack.

The patented cone-shaped grate is clinkerless and all of the fuel is consumed

"Buck's" Patented Circulating Over-Draft

burns all the smoke and gasses and throws the heat to the outside edges of the stove where it is needed.

They are "built like a Battle-ship," to last a lifetime.

Don't worry along any longer with the "old-fashioned" fuel eaters cost no more than other makes and

they last a lifetime

Get the Corn Crib Ready

Indications now point to a much larger corn crop than was expected. Get your cribs into condition. You will find cypress cribbing, with beveled edges, the easiest to handle, best and most durable.

Perfection Shingles

Perfection Red Cedar Shingles have real quality. They show in grain and clearness that there is nothing better made. Have your contractor use "Perfection" Shingles from British Columbia.
